PREFACE.

THE continued and increasing favour with which this Work has for more than a quarter of a century been annually received by the Public, the important assistance constantly accorded to it by the Nobility, and the gracious communications with which it has been honoured by its August Patrons, while demanding the most grateful acknowledgments of the Editors, have incited them to fresh exertions, not only in maintaining their acknowledged reputation for superior authenticity and accuracy, but in rendering the present Edition even more acceptable than its predecessors. The Armorial Bearings have been carefully revised and renewed wherever necessary; and the full account of the FAMILIES OF EXISTING BARONETS will, it is believed, constitute this, together with its companion volume, "LODGE'S GENEALOGY OF THE BRITISH PEERAGE AND BARONETAGE," a complete repertory of all useful knowledge on the subject of the titled classes of the realm.

P R E F A C E

T O T H E F I R S T E D I T I O N .

IT may be proper to remark, that the present work, founded on the personal communications of the Nobility, is classed in two volumes,—the one comprising the living subjects of the British Peerage, including their Collateral Branches (a feature peculiar to this work), and the other exhibiting concise historical sketches of their Ancestry and Families.

The obvious advantage of this mode of publication will be found in the option which it affords to purchasers. Each volume may be considered either as a whole or as a moiety, for each is in its peculiar character and import perfect; and he who is once possessed of that which, for the sake of distinction, in reference, it has been thought fit to denominate “The Genealogical Volume,” the contents of which, as matters of History, are necessarily permanent, may always, at a reduced and comparatively small charge, efficiently retain the entire work by the addition of that which will be found referred to by the title of “The Peerage,” and which the course of events will unavoidably require to be occasionally replaced by a revised copy.

AN HISTORICAL VIEW

THE PEERAGE.

THE PEERAGE divides itself primarily into the two classes of Lords Spiritual and Temporal. Secondly, into such as in virtue of their peerages, have seats and votes in the Lords, or Upper House of Parliament; and those in whom the right of so sitting and voting is inherent, but is called into operation only through the election of a certain number by their colleagues.

Thus all the adult temporal Peers and all the spiritual Peers (except two) of the realm of England sit by virtue of their creation or consecration. The temporal Peers of Scotland have each a vote in the election of sixteen members of their body, to represent the whole during the continuance of each distinct Parliament. The temporal Peers of Ireland, immediately after the passing of the Act of Union, elected under its authority, in the same manner, twenty-eight representatives, but for life; and the right of election has subsequently been exercised to supply, from time to time, the vacancies created by death. The spiritual Peers of Ireland are represented in Parliament, not by election, but by rotation; the two Archbishops sitting alternate years, and three Bishops in annual rotation. This spiritual representation, however, ceases with the year 1870.

Since the completion of the Imperial Parliament by these two Acts of Union, every newly-created Peer (except the new Peers of Ireland, of whom one is created under the Act on the extinction of three Irish Peerages) has been denominated a Peer of the United Kingdom, and has the right of sitting inherent from his creation. The Peers of Great Britain created subsequently to the Act of Union between England and Scotland in 1707, and prior to that between Great Britain and Ireland, in 1800, take their seats in the House of Lords in right of their creation. The several distinctions—namely, of the Peerage of England, of Great Britain, of the United Kingdom, of Scotland, and of Ireland—are noticed in this Work in describing the titles of each Peer, and also whether the present possessor of a Scotch or Irish Peerage is a representative in Parliament of his class.

HISTORICAL VIEW OF

The Imperial Peerage of Great Britain is hereditary, and in the nature of its inheritance follows the same mode of descent with the Crown, from which, as the fountain of all honour within the Empire, it emanates; but with this difference, that whereas, in the descent of the Crown, the rule of primogeniture obtains in both sexes, in that of a Peerage the heirship in females of the same degree is co-equal. But as the power which gives has also the unalienable right of limiting the gift, such course of inheritance prevails only where the grant of the Peerage is without limit, as in those titles which originate in a summons to Parliament without a patent of creation. But in modern times it is usual for the Crown, in granting this high honour, to do so by letters-patent under the Great Seal; which instrument of creation also points out the line of inheritance, and most commonly in the male heirs of the body of the first Grantee.

The following is the ceremony in use in admitting a Peer into the House of Lords. After the Peers have taken their seats, the Lord Chancellor being on the woolsack, Garter King at Arms, attired in his tabard, and bare-headed, comes into the House of Lords bearing the Patent (if there be one), and writ of summons of the Peer to be introduced, who then follows between two Peers of his own rank, attired in their Robes of Estate, and is led by them up to the Lord Chancellor, to whom he makes obeisance; Garter then presents the Patent and writ of summons to the Lord Chancellor, who directs the same to be read; this being done, the oaths are administered to the new Peer, and the Chancellor dismisses him to take his seat, to which he is directed by the two noblemen who introduce him, Garter leading the way. The writ is then delivered by the Lord Chancellor to the Clerk of the House, to be laid up. The new Peer forthwith rises from his seat and returns to the Lord Chancellor, who congratulates him on becoming a member of the House of Peers, or on his elevation to a higher grade in the Peerage, as the case may be.

The Peers, by their privileges as a body, cannot be arrested and taken into custody, unless for an indictable offence; this being a privilege of Parliament, they hold it in common with the members of the Lower House, except that the privilege of a Commoner ceases within a limited period after the dissolution of Parliament, while that of a Peer is perpetual. Also to assault by violence a member of either House, or his servant, is a contempt of Parliament, and punishable with severity.

Peers are not subject to make answer to questions from the Lower House of Parliament. As Peers of Parliament they are entitled to vote by proxy, the proxy being always given to a Lord of Parliament, styled the Procurator, for his Principal; which Procurator must be a spiritual for a spiritual, a temporal for a temporal Lord. Each Peer may also, with leave of the House, enter his protest upon the journals, expressing his dissent from any vote that has passed the House, with his reasons for such dissent. All bills that may in their consequences any way affect the rights of the Peerage, are, by the custom of Parliament, to have their first rise and beginning in the House of Lords, and to suffer no changes or amendments in the House of Commons.

A very ancient privilege of the Peerage, which now appears to have fallen into disuse, is declared by the Charter of the Forest, confirmed in Parliament, 9th HENRY III. ; namely, that every Lord spiritual or temporal summoned to Parliament, and passing through the King's forests, may, both in going and returning, kill one or two of the King's deer without warrant, in view of the forester if he be present, or on blowing a horn if he be absent, that he may not seem to take the King's venison by stealth.

The very important privilege of franking letters, which formerly the Peers possessed in common with the members of the Lower House of Parliament, was abandoned on the passing of the Penny Postage Act, which came into operation January 10th, 1840.

The privileges above enumerated belong to the Peers in their capacity of Members of Parliament ; they also possess others attached to their personal dignity.

In common with all the subjects of the realm, they can be tried only by their Peers ; thus a Commoner is tried by a jury of Commoners, but a Lord of Parliament, when criminally arraigned—that is, in cases of felony, treason, or misprison of treason—has this especial privilege, that all his Peers are summoned to the trial, and he is acquitted or condemned by the verdict of the majority ; which is given, not upon oath, as in the case of legal juries, but in the form, “ Guilty—or, Not guilty—upon my honour ;” pronounced by each Peer in his place, in answer to the question severally put by the Lord Steward, who presides in the Court, beginning with the youngest Baron, and proceeding upwards to the senior Prince of the Blood Royal. A Peer also answers to bills in Chancery upon his honour, and not upon his oath : but when he is examined as a witness, either in civil or criminal cases, or in the High Court of Parliament, he must be sworn. On all charges of misdemeanor, however, as libels, riots, perjury, conspiracy, &c., a Peer is tried, like a Commoner, by a jury. But he cannot be bound over to keep the peace in any other place than the Courts of Queen's Bench and Chancery. And the honour of Peers is so highly valued by the law, that it is much more penal to spread false reports of them, and certain other great officers of the realm, than of other men ; scandal against them being called by the peculiar name of scandalum magnatum, and subjected to punishment by divers ancient statutes. Peers are exempted from attending Court Leets or on the posse comitatus.

HISTORICAL VIEW OF

A Peer cannot lose his Nobility but by death or attainder; if, indeed, he wastes his estate, so that he is not able to support his dignity, it has been said by the old writers that the King may degrade him; later authorities, however, expressly hold that a Peer cannot be degraded except by Act of Parliament; and there is but one instance of the exercise of this supreme jurisdiction, which was in the case of George Neville, Duke of Bedford, in the reign of EDWARD IV.

In the case of forfeiture by attainder, an important difference exists in the operation of the attainder, according as it may be for high treason or felony. A person upon whom judgment of high treason is pronounced, or who is outlawed upon an indictment of high treason, is said to be attainted of high treason, and his honours are forfeited to the Crown for ever. Nothing but a reversal of such an Act of attainder by Parliament will restore a Peer so attainted, or his posterity, to the dignity thus forfeited; nor in the event of the issue of the body of the person attainted failing, will the descendants of the person who was first created to the Peerage be admitted to it, without a removal of the attainder by which it was forfeited.

Dignities created either by writ or by patent become thus forfeited by an attainder for high treason; but by an attainder for felony an entailed dignity is not forfeited, though a dignity created by writ, and descendible to heirs-general, is forfeited by such attainder of the person possessed of it.

There is also a material difference in the effect of an attainder for high treason, between a dignity created by letters-patent, and one which originates in a writ of summons. In event of the eldest son of a Baron, holding his dignity by writ, or other person within the line of inheritance, being attainted of high treason, if he or his posterity should afterwards become entitled to the honour, by the decease of his father or other predecessors, the title so falling upon an attainted person becomes equally forfeited as if he had possessed it at the time of his attainder, and so would remain as long as any descendants from him were in existence, but would revive on the extinction of his issue, in favour of any heir whose claim to it would not have been derived through the attainted person. But in the case of an heir to a title by letters-patent being attainted of high treason, and dying before those persons whose title to the dignity was prior to his, the attainder would not prevent such dignity from afterwards falling upon the descendants of the person so attainted.

THE PEERAGE.

Having thus considered the principal circumstances incident to the Peerage at large, whether as a body or individually, it remains to take a view of such points as relate respectively to each grade of the Peerage, from the Princes of the Blood Royal to the Barons ; which title, though lowest in rank, formerly gave name to the whole Order, in the same manner as it is now spoken of under the generic appellation of Peers

Prince of Wales's Coronet.

Princess Royal's Coronet.

PRINCES OF THE BLOOD ROYAL.

In England, the Sovereign's sons, except the eldest, are of no other account in the constitution than by the dignity which they derive from their near connexion with the reigning Monarch and the possibility of their ascending the throne, or giving to it a future heir. They have no appanages allotted to them ; no titles of honour reserved for them, they are known only by the princely rank which their birth secures to them, until it is the pleasure of the Crown to give them a seat or a voice in the great council of the nation, by conferring a Peerage on them of its free grace and favour. Nevertheless, so high is the respect in which the Majesty of these realms is held, that especial honours are paid to all the children of the Crown ; they take precedence of all other subjects, are addressed by the style of Royal Highness, are served at table on the bended knee, except in presence of the Sovereign ; all subjects are to uncover their heads in their presence, and to kneel when admitted to kiss their hands.

The Prince of Wales, who is born Duke of Cornwall, and by creation is Earl of Chester, is of age from his birth, and a chair of state is placed for him on the right of the throne in the House of Lords. He is also, in right of his birth, a Knight of the Garter ; and it is expressly provided by the statutes, that all the King's sons, who are elected Knights of the Most Noble Order, shall be independent of the number twenty-five, of which the Order consists. The Sovereign's younger sons and grandsons, when created Peers, are entitled to seats in the House of Lords, at the left hand of the throne ; but when, by the death of their father, they become only collaterally related to the Crown, they take their places as first upon the Ducal bench.

The robe of estate of the Prince of Wales is of purple velvet lined with ermine, and trimmed with a cape of ermine descending from the neck to the elbow, distinguished by five rows of ermine tails. His cap is of velvet, turned up with ermine, and having a tassel of gold on the crown. Over it is worn a coronet composed of a circlet of gold enriched with jewels; above its upper rim rise four fleur-de-lis and four crosses-pattée alternately; from them an arched diadem of gold crosses the head, and is finished at top with a ball surmounted by a cross-pattée. This coronet is engraved at the head of the present article. It is, in fact, the same as the imperial crown, with the difference of having but one diadem, instead of that one being crossed, as in the crown, by a second. The coronet appertaining to the younger sons and to the daughters of the Sovereign differs from that of the Prince of Wales only by the omission of the diadem and the ball and cross which surmount it. The nephews and nieces of the Crown have their coronets differenced by the substitution of four strawberry leaves for the four fleur-de-lis.

Duke's Coronet.

DUKES.

The title of Duke, though first in rank, and in its derivation the most ancient, is much later in its introduction to our hereditary Peerage than that of Earl and Baron.

The word is found almost literally in the Latin Dux, which in ancient Rome signified the leader of an army, but in the Lower Empire became the title of a local military Lieutenant of the Emperor; in this sense it was transferred to the Western Empire, under the Franks and Germans, but speedily grew in the latter into the designation of hereditary feudal rank and power, inferior only to that of a King. Among our Saxon ancestors the title was in frequent use in its Latin military sense; but the title soon acquired a territorial signification, and in the earlier Saxon documents it is subscribed as synonymous with Comes or Earldorman, till the reign of Canute, when the Danish word Eorle began to prevail, though it did not entirely supersede the more ancient term before the time of the Normans.

THE PEERAGE.

After the Norman Conquest, which changed the military polity of the nation, the Kings themselves continuing for many generations Dukes of Normandy, they would not honour any subjects with the title of Duke, till the time of EDWARD III., who, claiming to be King of France, and thereby merging the Ducal in the Royal dignity, in the eleventh year of his reign created his son, Edward the Black Prince, Duke of Cornwall; and many, of the royal family especially, were afterwards raised to the like honour. "However, in the reign of Queen ELIZABETH, A.D. 1572, the whole order," says Judge Blackstone, "became utterly extinct." But this expression requires some qualification, for though the attainder of the Duke of Norfolk in that year did for the time extinguish the highest grade of the Peerage, yet it contained in itself the principle of vitality; since the heirs of two attainted Dukedoms, those of Norfolk and Somerset, enjoyed the honours of the Peerage by the respective titles of Earl of Arundel and Earl of Hertford, till the higher rank was restored to each by King CHARLES II., with the original precedency.

Soon after the temporary suspension of the Ducal title in England, King JAMES VI., then reigning in Scotland, bestowed it, for the first time in that kingdom (with some unimportant and temporary exceptions), on a subject not the son of a King; the nobleman so advanced being Esme Stuart, Earl of Lennox, the King's near relation on the father's side, whom, in 1581, he created Duke of Lennox. The same King having acquired the sovereignty of the three kingdoms, by succeeding to the throne of ELIZABETH after her decease, under the name of JAMES I., revived this order in England in 1623, by raising Ludovick, second Duke of Lennox, to the rank of Duke of Richmond; and the following day bestowed the same honour on his favourite, George Villiers, whom he created Duke of Buckingham. James added no other Dukes to the Peerage; and great as was the need of his son, King CHARLES, for the support of his most powerful nobles, he refrained from increasing this small number in England, though he renewed the title of Duke of Richmond to James Stuart, the brother and heir of the first Duke, on whose death it had become extinct by the failure of issue male; and in Scotland he created the Duke of Hamilton only. The Ducal dignity existed at the restoration of CHARLES II. in no families but these three. But that monarch, prodigal in all things, not only restored the two forfeited Dukedoms of Norfolk and Somerset, but gave new patents for the title with unsparing hand, especially to his illegitimate sons. Five English and three Scotch Dukedoms of this reign are still in existence, though two of the latter merge in the superior titles of Richmond and Buccleuch. To the same King Ireland was also indebted for the Ducal title, to which James, Marquis and twelfth Earl of Ormonde, was elevated in 1661, and subsequently was also created Duke of Ormonde in England. The English title was attained in 1715, in the person of his grandson the second Duke; and the Irish Dukedom finally became extinct in 1758. The only Dukes now existing in Ireland are the Duke of Leinster, of the family of Fitz-Gerald, so created in 1766; and the Duke of Abercorn, so created in 1868.

In heraldic documents, a Duke is styled the High, Puissant, and Most Noble Prince; his general style is, His Grace, and Most Noble: in letters of form he is addressed, "My Lord Duke, may it please your Grace."

The coronation-robe of a Duke (and that in which he would be invested, were not the ceremonies of investiture now dispensed with in the patents of creation) is—a mantle of crimson velvet, lined with white taffeta, and trimmed with a cape of ermine reaching from the neck to the elbow, distinguished by four rows of black spots. His parliamentary robe is of fine scarlet cloth, lined with taffeta, and doubled with four guards of ermine at equal distances, with gold lace above each guard, and is tied up to the left shoulder with white ribbon. His cap is of crimson velvet, lined with ermine, having a gold tassel on the top. His coronet, worn over the cap, is a circlet of gold enriched with jewels, and set round with eight golden strawberry-leaves rising from its upper rim.

The eldest son of a Duke, though in law only an Esquire, takes by courtesy his father's second title, and is legally styled thus—"Charles Henry Gordon-Lennox, Esq., commonly called Earl of March;"—but to whatever grade of the Peerage that title may belong, he ranks next after the Marquises. The Duke's daughters and younger sons take by courtesy the title of Lady or Lord before their Christian and surnames, and are styled in law, "Anne Fitzalan-Howard, commonly called Lady Anne Fitzalan-Howard;" or "Edmund Bernard Fitzalan-Howard, Esq., commonly called Lord Edmund Bernard Fitzalan-Howard;" all the children also bear by courtesy the style of Right Honourable.

MARQUISES.

The word Marchio, in the Saxon and early Norman periods of our history, was applied to the Baron or Earl whose office it was to preserve the frontier (as on the borders of Wales or Scotland), usually called the Marches, free from the inroads of an enemy: so in Germany the Count or Graf of the border is called Markgraf, or Margrave. As distinguished from other titles of honour, it was unknown in this country till, in 1386, RICHARD II. created his favourite, Robert de Vere, Earl of Oxford, Marquis of Dublin, and gave him precedence between the degrees of Duke and Earl. From that time it occurs very sparingly in the lists of the Peerage, and seems most frequently to have been little more than a step to the higher honours of the Dukedom, and otherwise to have been peculiarly liable to extinction; for in the long period of 500 years from the date of that first creation, only in twelve instances has the title of Marquis existed as the chief honour of its possessor for a longer term than five years. The first Marquis was created Duke of Ireland in the year following his advance to the Marquisate. It appears from the circumstances attending a second experiment, that in those early times there existed a prejudice against this newly-invented honour. John de Beaufort (the eldest legitimated son of John of Gaunt, Duke of Lancaster) was created by the same King, in 1397, Marquis of Dorset; and that dignity being taken from him in the first year of HENRY IV. by Act of Parliament. From this time it was not in use till the reign of HENRY VI., who again bestowed on a member of the family of Beaufort the title of Marquis of Dorset, which was soon afterwards merged in that of Duke of Somerset, and both were forfeited in 1463. The title of Dorset was, however, destined to be the first in which the marquisate should take root in the House of Lords; Thomas Grey, Lord Ferrers, of Groby, stepson of EDWARD IV., was by that King, in 1475, created Marquis of Dorset, which continued to be the distinguishing honour of his family till his grandson, father of the Lady Jane Grey, was created Duke of Suffolk in 1551, and attainted in 1554. In the same year that the Marquis of Dorset was advanced to the dukedom, there being then one other existing Marquis in the person of William Parr, brother to King HENRY VIII.'s sixth wife (which title having become extinct in 1571), William Paulet, Earl of Wiltshire, was created Marquis of Winchester, and though, after one hundred and thirty-eight years, his successor was advanced to the Dukedom of Bolton, the latter title being now extinct, the Marquis of Winchester continues at the head of the Peers of his rank to the present day, the next to him, indeed, bearing date only from 1784. Except for about twenty years in and after the reign of CHARLES I., when there were five Marquises, no more than three noblemen have ever borne this title coterminously in England till the latter half of the reign of George III., since which period its ranks have been filled up to an equal number with the Dukes.

HISTORICAL VIEW OF

This degree of nobility first appeared in Scotland in 1476, when JAMES III. created his second son, at his baptism, Marquis of Ormonde; "an empty title," says Douglas, and it does not appear what precedence was allotted to it, as that of Earl of Ross, which the young prince received four years afterwards, entirely superseded it. The title does not appear again in Scotland till, in the year 1599, JAMES VI. advanced the Earls of Huntly and Arran to the dignity of Marquis; since that time it has been borne successively by two or three of the first families on their passage to the superior rank of Dukes, till the Union fixed the Marquises of Tweeddale and Lothian in the second grade; to which the titles of Huntly and Queensberry have since been added, by the extinction of their respective dukedoms.

In Ireland the title was still more rare, indeed almost unknown, till near the close of last century, but there are now twelve Marquises in the Irish Peerage.

The Marquis's style is "Most Honourable the Marquis of —," and he is addressed, "My Lord Marquis."

The coronation robe of a Marquis is a mantle of crimson velvet, lined with white taffeta, and trimmed with a cape of ermine reaching from the neck to the elbow, distinguished by four rows of black spots on the right, and three on the left shoulder. His parliamentary robe, but for a similar distinction, would be the same as that of a Duke.

His cap and coronet also resemble the Duke, differenced only by four of the strawberry leaves on the rim being exchanged for as many golden balls. See the engraving above.

The eldest son of a Marquis, though in law only an Esquire, takes by courtesy his father's second title, and ranks next after the Earls. The Marquis's daughters and younger sons have by courtesy the titles of Ladies and Lords before their Christian and surnames, and all his children are styled Right Honourable.

EARLS.

This is the most ancient order of our nobility. In the Saxon times the grandees of the kingdom, under the name of Ealdorman

THE PEERAGE.

(which literally has the same meaning as the Latin Senior or Senator), had shires or other territories committed to their rule; and were sometimes from these governments denominated Shiremen, sometimes, from their military commands, described by the Saxon word Here toga, and in Latin documents were styled Princeps, Dux, or Comes. These names seem all to be synonymous and indicative of a rank inferior to the Etheling or Princes of the blood, and superior to the Thane. With the Danes came in the title of Eorle, used in the parts subject to their power in a sense equivalent to this of Ealdorman, but admitted into the Saxon dominions with reference to the higher dignity of the King's immediate relatives; from whom, on the sway of Canute extending all over England, it descended to the same persons who had previously borne the title of Ealdorman.

This honour, with the authority and reverence attached to it, was conferred for life, or with an estate of inheritance at the King's pleasure; but in those unsettled times no evidence remains of any long succession in the same family.

Upon the Norman conquest, the territorial possessions of the Saxon nobility were declared forfeited upon perpetually recurring pretences, and transferred to the Norman followers of the Conqueror; to whom, also, other fiefs were dispensed under the new denomination of Count or Countee: this, however, was soon again supplanted by the ancient title of Earl; though, singularly enough, the alien word that would not attach itself to the persons of its Norman owners, took root in their English shires, which from thence are called Counties to this day. The Norman Earl, to which rank the most illustrious names of our early history belong, was invested with the third penny out of the Sheriff's court of the county; and there is some trace of his Saxon predecessor having also enjoyed it. Upon the increase of their number in latter times, this revenue ceased; and it was usual to assign to them, in the patent of creation, in lieu of it, for the support of their dignity, a certain sum, frequently twenty pounds, out of the profits of the county, which also is obsolete; indeed the Earls have become so numerous that they now usually derive their titles from a town or village, or from a family name, instead of a County, as formerly.

The Earls and Barons, as they are the most ancient, so also have they always been the most numerous Orders of the Peerage; though in England, at the present time, the number of Barons nearly doubles that of Earls. In Ireland the number is nearly equal. But in Scotland, where the title is known to have existed almost four hundred years before any other parliamentary honour is recognised by official documents, this Order is more numerous than all the other degrees of the Peerage collectively.

HISTORICAL VIEW OF

The Earl's style is "the Right Honourable the Earl of ——" ; he is addressed as "My Lord."

The robes of an Earl are differenced from those of a Duke by having three instead of four rows of ermine ; in other respects they are precisely the same.

His cap, also, is the same as a Duke's. His coronet is a circlet of gold enriched with jewels, from which rise eight points surmounted by as many balls of gold, and between them eight small strawberry leaves close to the upper rim of the circlet.—See the engraving above.

The eldest son, though in law only an Esquire, takes by courtesy his father's second title. The daughters have by courtesy the title of Ladies before their Christian and surnames, and, as well as the eldest son, are styled Right Honourable. The younger sons are styled Honourable.

VISCOUNTS.

In the Saxon times, next in rank to the Ealdorman was the Highgereve, or Shire-reve, an officary dignity only, derived immediately from the King, and having still its representative in our High Sheriff ; they were not deputies to the Earl, but held for the King's use such countries or territories as had no Ealdorman ; and in those that had, the Sheriff had the custody of whatever rights the King reserved to himself in them. In Latin documents those officers were styled Vice-comites, but the particle vice did not then denote subordination, other than to the King, any more than it now does in the dignity we are considering.

This was introduced as a title of hereditary nobility in England, but without a shadow of official trust, by HENRY VI., who found it established in his kingdom of France. In 1440, he created John, previously Baron Beaumont, Viscount Beaumont, and gave him place above the Barons ; the title became extinct by the death of the first Viscount's son, in 1507. Meanwhile this rank had been conferred on the Lords Lovel and Welles, both extinct before 1507 ; and L'Isle, which failed in 1512, when the Viscount's degree no longer existed in the Peerage, till, after an interval of twenty-one years, this title of L'Isle was revived. It failed again in 1541, but the Earl of Hertford, afterwards Duke of Somerset and Protector, then held the title of Viscount Beauchamp, though merged in the superior rank of his Earldom. He was attainted and all his honours forfeited in 1552; two years previous to which period, Walter Devereux, Baron Ferrars of Chartley, had been created Viscount Hereford. This dignity was merged in the Earldom of Essex in 1572, from which time, for nearly fifty years, none bore the title of Viscount as their chief honour; and the forfeiture of Robert, the celebrated Earl of Essex, in 1600, again suspended the Order, till his son was restored to his dignities in 1603; on his death, in 1616, the Viscounty emerged by the extinction of the Earldom of Essex, and Hereford has since, without farther interruption, been borne as the principal title of the first English Viscount.

In 1620, three Viscounts were created, and the number was gradually increased till 1628, when they amounted to nine, the largest number this rank has ever counted, before the accession of GEORGE III. They are still not numerous as compared with Earls and Barons, but about equal with the Dukes and Marquises.

As HENRY VI. borrowed the title of Viscount from his French dominions, so, after JAMES VI. of Scotland had ascended the throne of England, it makes its first appearance in the Scottish Peerage. In 1606, the Viscounts of Fentoun and Haddington were created; of them, the former was advanced, in 1619, to the Earldom of Kellie, and the latter became extinct in 1625, but not till other creations had raised the number of Viscounts, independently of such as bore superior titles from the one which remained, in 1619, to five; and though occasionally fluctuating, the number of this order continued on the whole to increase, till, in the year 1700, they amounted to seventeen, besides those that were merged; but from that period they have gradually declined, leaving at the present time no more than four. This class has always been comparatively large in the Irish Peerage. Early in the last century it numerically nearly doubled that of either Earls or Barons; at present it is exceeded in number by both these ranks, but is considerably more numerous than the English Viscounts.

The Viscount's style is "the Right Honourable the Viscount ——" ; he is addressed as "My Lord."

The robes of a Viscount are in form the same as have been described under the higher orders of the Peerage—differenced by having three rows of black spots on the right, and two on the left shoulder.

His cap is the same as a Duke's. His coronet is a circlet of gold enriched with jewels, the upper rim of which is surmounted by fourteen balls set close together, as represented in the engraving above.

His sons and daughters are all styled Honourable, there being no distinctive title for the eldest son.

BARONS.

An inferior order of territorial Nobility was known in the Anglo-Saxon polity, divided into the spiritual and secular classes, by the names of Messe Thegnes and World Thegnes. The former were not Bishops who by that name (Bisceopes) ranked with the Earls, but subordinate Priests, ranked by the laws of King ATHELSTAN on an equality with the secular Thanes. The latter were hereditarily endowed with fair possessions, held of the King by tenure of Knight's service, and called Tainland. They belonged to the great nobility, though the officary dignity of Highgereve ranked before them.

To constitute a Thane, it was necessary that he should possess a distinct office in the King's Court; or, being a churle or countryman, that he should have "fully five hides of his own land, a church, a kitchen, a bellhouse, and a boroughgate with a seat." In these curious particulars, handed down by a Saxon writer, an interesting insight is afforded us into the manners and piety of our ancestors. A great Lord must have a church for the edification of his family and retainers; he must also keep a court in which justice may be administered to them—the original of the Court Baron, still existing in all manors, and described under those simple words, "sitting in the gate," which we so often read in the Scripture; the hospitality required of them is expressed in the kitchen and the bellhouse being the only indispensable parts of a mansion; the bellhouse denoted the hall of entertainment to which the guests, no doubt, were summoned, as is still practised in the country seats of our gentry, by ringing a bell; and it is remarkable that a statute of RICHARD II. calls the King's Hall "Tinel-le-Roy," from the tinkling of a bell.

Under the Norman monarchy, the term Baron gradually superseded that of Thane; at first they were used indiscriminately, except that Baron is never applied, as in the Saxon description of a Thane, to the servants of the King's Court in that capacity; a Baron must hold territorial Barony, by feudal service, immediately of the King. Selden, in his "Titles of Honour," describing the principles of the feudal Baronage, divides the time from the Conquest into three periods: the first comprehending from the Conquest to the latter end of the reign of King JOHN; the second, to the eleventh year of RICHARD II.; the third, from the latter period to that in which he wrote, and which may now be extended to the present time.

In the first period, all who held any quantity of land directly from the King had, without distinction, a right to be summoned to Parliament; and this right being confined solely to the King's tenants, of consequence all the Peers of Parliament during that period sat by virtue of tenure and a writ of summons. But towards its close the conflux of Peers became so large and troublesome, that the King was obliged to divide them, and summon only the greater Barons in person; leaving the small ones to be summoned by the Sheriff, and (as it is said by Blackstone) to sit by representation in another house; which gave rise to the separation of the two Houses of Parliament.

In the beginning of the second period—that is, in the last year of the reign of King JOHN, this distinction was confirmed by Magna Charta, in which the King declares, faciemus summoneri archiepiscopos, episcopos, abbates, comites, et majores barones regni sigillatim per literas nostras, et præterea faciemus summoneri in generali per vicecomites et ballivos nostros omnes alios, qui in capite tenent de nobis ad certum diem, &c. Tenure, therefore, now began to be disregarded, and persons who held no lands of the Crown were summoned to Parliament by the King's writ; and it has been held that right by tenure ceased under HENRY III., and that no person was then considered to be entitled to sit in the Parliament, unless he was summoned thereto by the King's writ; though it is contended, on the authority of a proceeding in the Parliament of 1225, that the Crown never possessed the prerogative of omitting to summon to every Parliament the Barones majores, who had formerly been entitled to sit in right of their tenures. That the right to a seat in Parliament, as attached to the possession of certain lands, is now wholly abolished, is evidenced by the proceedings in the case of Benjamin Mildmay, Esq., who, in 1668, presented a petition, claiming the Barony of Fitz-Walter, as heir-general of Robert Fitz-Walter, summoned to Parliament in the twenty-third of EDWARD I., A.D. 1295, and was opposed by Robert Cheeke, Esq. Whereupon, his Majesty was pleased to order in council that the cause should be heard by the Privy Council, on the 19th January, 1669, when the two Chief Justices and the Lord Chief Baron were ordered to attend. The Counsel for the said Robert Cheeke affirmed that the same was a Barony by tenure, and ought to go along with the land:

which the Counsel of the Petitioner denied, and offered to argue upon the same. Upon which, both parties being ordered to withdraw, the nature of a Barony by tenure being discoursed, it was found to have been discontinued for many ages, and not in being, and so not fit to be revived, or to admit any pretence of right of succession thereupon. It was ordered by his Majesty in Council, "that the Petitioner is admitted humbly to address himself to his Majesty for his writ to sit in the House of Peers as Baron Fitz-Walter," and he was so summoned accordingly. In every instance since, which has had any bearing upon the question of Baronies by Tenure, the resolutions of the House of Lords have tended to confirm that of the Privy Council in 1669.

The third period commences in 1387, with the first instance of a creation by patent, when RICHARD II. created John de Beauchamp, Baron Beauchamp of Kydderminster, with remainder to the heirs male of his body, since which period Peerages have been indifferently created by writ or patent, but in modern times by patent only, and usually with limitation to the heirs male of the body, but without prejudice to the right of the Crown to grant to any other remainder, or, which is less frequently (if indeed ever) exercised, to create a Barony by writ.

With regard to the mode in which a Peerage is hereditary, it has been already shown, that in the first century and a half of Norman rule, a Barony appears to have appertained to the tenure of a certain demesne, the honour consequently following the land, however conveyed. Also, that the inheritance of Peerages conferred by patent is, by the instrument of creation, so defined, or rather limited from what would otherwise have been its natural course, as to be incapable of any other than the designed succession. It therefore remains to explain the effect on the inheritance of a title derived from a writ of summons, and a sitting under it, without which consummation the writ conveys no right. And this effect is so intelligible to Englishmen, from its near affinity to the operation of a fee simple, that a few particulars only require notice, in which it differs from that well-understood rule of common law. First, then, it is distinctly laid down that the writ of summons conveys no inheritance except to the descendants of the first Baron who took his seat under it. Secondly, on the failure of an equally proximate male the right of females is admitted, as in inheritances at common law; but with a difference growing out of the nature of the estate, which, being a Parliamentary Barony, is indivisible.* Thus, if a Baron leaves no son, the honour becomes vested in his daughters; if he has only one daughter, she succeeds to it, but if there be more daughters than one, the title falls into ABEYANCE amongst them, and continues in that state either until all but one of the daughters be deceased without issue, or the sole heir of only one daughter survives; in which case the Barony devolves on the surviving daughter, or the heir of her body. If, however, the representation of such daughter be among her co-heirs, the dignity falls into abeyance among them, but the moment the representation is vested in an individual, that individual will have an immediate right to the Barony. During the continuance of the abeyance it is the prerogative of the Crown to terminate it, by conferring the Peerage on any one of the co-heirs; no one being injured by this operation of the royal favour, as no one could claim the title until all the other co-heirs were extinct. The person so preferred, however, must be the heir-general of one of the original co-heirs, or of some later co-heir of her moiety of the inheritance. The manner of terminating the abeyance of a dignity in favour of a male co-heir who is not a Peer, is by the issuing of a writ of summons, by the style and title of the Barony in abeyance; but when the person in whose favour an abeyance is to be determined is already a Peer, and has a higher dignity, the Sovereign confirms the Barony to him by letters patent; and in the case of a female, an abeyance is also terminated by patent. On failure of the descendants of the body of the person so summoned, or confirmed by patent, the Barony would again fall into abeyance, unless such failure involved that of all the other branches, leaving a sole representative of one of the original co-heirs, who in that case would take the title by right of inheritance from his ancestor. It must be remembered that the representation of a Barony by writ is always vested in the heirs of the body of the person first created; thus, on the death of a Baron who inherited the dignity, without issue, the title, if he has no brother living, or there be no issue of such brother, will become vested in his sister or sisters, or their heirs; in default of which it will revert to his eldest uncle of the side from whom he inherited the dignity, or his issue; failing which, to his aunts and their issue; the females of each generation being preferred to the males of the preceding generation. On the failure of the issue of a Baron who inherited a dignity from his mother, and also the issue of his mother, the dignity of course devolves on his maternal ancestors.

It may here be remarked that the style of summons to Parliament as addressed to an English Baron differs from that addressed to the other orders of Nobility: these latter are always summoned by their Christian names and titles, as Henry, Duke of Norfolk; John, Marquis of Winchester. But the Barons by their Christian and

Surnames, to which the title is added, with the addition of the Norman Style, "Chevalier;" thus, Richard Henry Fitzroy Somerset, of Raglan, in the County of Monmouth, Chevalier.

When the eldest son of a Peer is summoned by writ to the House of Lords in his father's lifetime, and placed in a Barony vested in his father, the writ neither takes the Barony out of the father, nor creates any new estate in it in the son, but is merely allowed to enable him to sit in Parliament. If, however, he should die before his father, leaving an heir of his body capable of inheriting the Barony, according to the original limitation of it, such heir, if a son of full age, would be entitled to a Writ of Summons.

The rank of Baron has always had the preponderance in number over the other classes of the English Peerage, but at present it is a more numerous body than all the other Peers collectively.

In Scotland, the title of Baron does not appear till the year 1430, when "Thomas Dominus Somerville" is named as one of the conservators of the truce with England. After this time the title became common, but the dates of the earlier creations are so uncertain, that it is not easy to settle the precedence of the respective Barons. Where no patent appears, the descent of a Peerage is usually, as in England, to the heirs-general, but with preference of primogeniture amongst the daughters as well as amongst the sons; and this is frequently the line of descent marked out by the patents or charters of creation. The number of Barons has never been great in the Peerage of Scotland, and is now about half that of the Earls.

Kingsale, the first Irish Barony, bears date from 1181. The nature of the Irish Baronies resembles those of England, being originally founded on feudal tenure, afterwards on writs of summons to Parliament, and lastly on creations by Patent. The number is about equal to that of the Earls.

The style of a Baron is "the Right Honourable Lord —," he is addressed as "My Lord." His robes are differentiated from those of a Viscount by having two rows of ermine spots only; his coronet, by having only six balls on its upper rim. His sons and daughters are all styled Honourable.

THE PEERAGE.

THE LORDS SPIRITUAL.

We have already seen that by the laws of King ATHELSTAN the Bishops were ranked with the Ealdormen or Earls, and the Messe Thanes, or Priests, with the World or Secular Thanes. But they were exempt from the services which the Crown was entitled to claim from the secular nobility; which, however, WILLIAM the Conqueror, early in his reign, imposed on the Bishops, by converting their lands into secular Baronies; thereby requiring of them both military service and attendance on the King's Courts, subsequently the High Court of Parliament; and this attendance was especially confirmed by the Constitutions of Clarendon, in the reign of HENRY II.

The Archbishop of Canterbury ranks as the first subject in the realm, next after the Blood Royal. The Lord High Chancellor is the second, and the Archbishop of York the third. Bishops, by a statute of HENRY VIII., rank next after the Viscounts, taking precedence of all Barons.

The Archbishop is styled "His Grace," and "The Most Reverend Father in God, the Lord Archbishop of —." A Bishop is "The Right Reverend Father in God, the Lord Bishop of —." He is styled "My Lord." The Archbishop of Canterbury writes himself, "by Divine Providence, Archbishop of Canterbury, &c." The Archbishop of York and the other Bishops use the form, "by Divine Permission." The Mitre is a high cap, pointed and cleft at the top, with two pendants fringed at the ends hanging from the lower part of the cap; the Bishop's cap is surmounted with a fillet of gold enriched with jewels; that of the Archbishop with a ducal coronet.

The Bishop of Sodor and Man, and the junior Bishop for the time being (except those of London, Durham, and Winchester), have no seat in the House of Lords.

THE BARONETAGE.

THE last of hereditary titles is that of Baronet. I' has been observed that in the reign of King JOHN the Barones Minores lost the right of individual summons to Parliament; the title of Baronet was afterwards frequently applied to this class of nobility, and is so used in a statute as late as the reign of King RICHARD II. But it was a general term without any defined application till the reign of JAMES I. This monarch, finding his expenses outrun his revenue, amongst many devices to recruit his treasury, erected, in 1611, the Order of Baronets—an hereditary distinction next in rank to the Peerage—and offered it to two hundred gentlemen of good birth, possessing a clear estate of one thousand pounds a year; on condition that each one should pay into the King's Exchequer, in three equal instalments, a sum equivalent to three years' pay of thirty soldiers, at eightpence per day per man; the first instalment to be paid on the delivery of the patent. The state of Ireland afforded an ostensible plea for this open and unprecedented sale of dignities; the province of Ulster especially was in a state of almost hopeless anarchy, and the patents of the new Baronets, which were all word for word the same, the names of the parties only excepted, embodied a declaration that the money so raised should be employed in establishing an army for the reduction and good government of that Province, in witness of which design the cognizance of the Order was to be the bloody hand of Ulster, borne in a Canton on their Arms, or more heraldically, on a field, argent, a sinister hand, erect, gules.

In 1619, the same dignity was created in Ireland, upon the same terms; and shortly before the death of King JAMES, the plantation of the province of Nova Scotia, in North America, was assigned as a cause for extending the same offers to the landed proprietors of Scotland. The King did not live to fulfil his intention, but CHARLES I., his son and successor, soon after his accession, created the first Baronet of Nova Scotia.

There is a vacancy in the Representation of the Peers for Scotland, caused by the votes for the Earl of Kellie and Lord Rollo being equal.

MEM.—According to the Usage of Parliament, when the House appoints a Select Committee, the Lords appointed to serve upon it are named in the Order of their Rank, beginning with the Highest; and so, when the House sends a Committee to a Conference with the Commons, the Lord highest in Rank is called first, and the rest go forth in like Order; but when the Whole House is called over for any Purpose within the House, or for the purpose of proceeding forth to Westminster Hall, or upon any public Solemnity, the call begins invariably with the Junior Baron.

Ventry.

By the Act for the Union of Ireland, 39 and 40 George III. chap. 67, it is enacted, "The Lords of Parliament, on the part of Ireland, shall have the same privileges as the Lords on the part of Great Britain; and all the Lords Spiritual of Ireland shall have rank next after the Lords Spiritual of the same rank in Great Britain, and shall enjoy the same privileges, (except those depending upon sitting in the House of Lords,) and the Temporal Peers of Ireland shall have rank next after the Peers of the like rank in Great Britain at the time of the Union; and all Peerages of Ireland and of the United Kingdom, created after the Union, shall have rank according to creation, and all Peerages of Great Britain and Ireland shall in all other respects be considered as Peerages of the United Kingdom, and the Peers of Ireland shall enjoy the same privileges, except those depending upon sitting in the House of Lords."

On the extinction of three Irish Peerages, the Sovereign has the power to create one new Irish Peerage, which is to rank among the English Peers, according to their dates.

[†] H.R.H. resigned Oct. 1863, on behalf of himself and his descendants, all right and title to the Dukedom of Coburg and Gotha.

PEERS OF THE BLOOD ROYAL.

First, was created Prince of Wales a few days after his birth, in April 1284; but having, in consequence of the death of his elder brother, Prince Alphonso, succeeded to the Throne of his father as King Edward the Second, the Principality became united to the Crown. Edward the Third, his son, was never Prince of Wales, but he invested his son, Edward the Black Prince, with the Principality in 1343, since which time the eldest son of the Crown of England has borne the title of Prince of Wales, usually by creation, but in some few cases simply by being so declared.

Great Steward of Scotland, Duke of Rothsay, &c.—The high office which gave name to the Royal and Noble House of Stuart, was granted to its ancestor, Walter, the son of Alan, and confirmed by Malcolm the Fourth in 1157, to him and his heirs, who continued to hold it in lineal descent till Robert the Stewart ascended the Throne of Scotland in 1371, as King Robert the Second. King Robert the Third, son and successor of Robert the Second, was created Earl of Carrick in 1363; and by Act of Parliament in 1469, the titles of Prince and High Steward of Scotland, Duke of Rothsay, Earl of Carrick, Baron of Renfrew, and Lord of the Isles, were vested in the eldest son and heir apparent of the Crown of Scotland for ever.

Duke of Cornwall.—King Edward the Third created his eldest son, Edward the Black Prince, Duke of Cornwall, with limitation to him and his heirs, eldest sons and heirs apparent to the Crown of England, for ever, by Patent in 1337.

Earl of Chester.—Edward Prince of Wales, then eldest son of King Edward the First, was created Earl of Chester in 1304. Edward the Third, his son, though never Prince of Wales, bore the title of Earl of Chester before his accession to the throne; he created his son Edward the Black Prince, and subsequently his grandson, afterwards King Richard the Second, Prince of Wales and Earl of Chester, and this Earldom was by Act of Parliament in 1397, the 21st year of the latter monarch, united to the principality of Wales, since which period it has always been joined in the Patents of creation to the Prince of Wales.

Earl of Dublin.—Her Majesty was pleased to direct letters patent to be passed under the Great Seal, granting the dignity of an Earl of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland unto His Royal Highness Albert-Edward, Prince of Wales, K.G., and his heirs, Kings of the said United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland for ever, by the name, style, and title of Earl of Dublin; 10 Sept. 1849.

The EQUITABLE, established in 1762, is the oldest Mutual Life Office in the United Kingdom. The entire profits are divisible among its members, no portion of the same being diverted either or "commission" to agents or for dividends on Shares.

During the century of its existence it has paid £19,000,000 in claims, and £17,800,000 for bonuses on the same.

The Invested Capital on the 30th of June, 1869, consisted of—

£2,614,517 15 2	Cash advanced on Mortgage.
580,000 0 0	Stock in the 3 per Cent. Reduced Bank Annuities.
475,000 0 0	Stock in the 3 per Cent. Consolidated Bank Annuities.
200,000 0 0	Stock in the New 3 per Cent. Annuities.
540,000 0 0	Cash advanced on Debentures guaranteed by the Secretary of State for India.
75,000 0 0	Cash advanced on English Railway Debentures.
180,150 0 0	Cash advanced on Security of Policies.

The Reserve at the last rest, in December, 1859, exceeded £770,000, as a basis for future divisions. LOANS ON POLICIES.—The Directors make advances on deposit of the Policies.

A Court of Directors is held every WEDNESDAY, from Eleven to One o'clock, to receive Proposals for New Assurances; and a Short Account of the Society may be had on Application, personally or by post, at the Office.

The business of this Company consists in the PURCHASE of, or LOANS upon—REVERSIONARY INTERESTS, vested or contingent, in LANDED or FUNDED PROPERTY, or SECURITIES; also

LIFE INTERESTS in POSSESSION, as well as in EXPECTATION; and POLICIES of INSURANCE upon LIVES.

LOANS UPON REVERSIONS may be obtained either at an Annual Interest, or in consideration of deferred charges, payable upon the REVERSIONS falling in.

IMMEDIATE ANNUITIES are likewise granted upon the latter principle to persons entitled to Reversionary Interests, who may thus obtain an income until their property falls into possession, without being called upon for any payment until that event.

Prospectuses and Forms of Proposal may be obtained from the Secretary, to whom all communications should be addressed.

By order of the Board of Directors,
WM. BARWICK HODGE, Actuary and Secretary.

IN THIS SOCIETY alone Members can Assure with right to share in the WHOLE PROFITS for MODE-RATE PREMIUMS. In OTHER OFFICES they may assure at rates as low, but without any prospect of additions; OR, they may obtain the right to Profits, but only by payment of excessive Rates.

TRANSFER OF ASSURANCES.

From the lowness of its rates this Society is peculiarly suited to the case of those who may have joined Offices of less established position, and may now wish to transfer their Assurances. Even though of many years' continuance, there may be a pecuniary gain in surrendering the existing Assurance and opening a new one with this Office.

The average (participating) Premium in other Offices for £1000, at age 30, is slightly under £25. The Premium for £1000 in this Office, at age 35 (five years older), is only £23 8s. 4d.; and two years later, at age 37, still only £24 16s. 8d. So that one who had assured with such an office seven years before would not be subjected to any increase in his yearly payments, while he ought to receive a sum in hand from the other Office for the surrender.

THE SUBSISTING ASSURANCES exceed £6,500,000.

THE REALISED FUND, raised entirely from its own Premiums, exceed £1,600,000.

FINANCIAL POSITION AS SHOWN BY STATISTICS.

The Insurance Register (Kent and Co., London,) gives inquirers the means of judging as to the FINANCIAL POSITION of the various Offices. The facts there brought together show that no office gives evidence of greater progress or stability than the SCOTTISH PROVIDENT INSTITUTION.

ANNUAL REPORTS, with BALANCE SHEET Statement of INCOME and EXPENDITURE, and full information as to INVESTMENTS, may be had on application.

The objects of this Society are—Temporary Assistance to Governesses in distress, afforded privately and delicately through the Ladies' Committee.

Annuity Fund.—Elective Annuities to Aged Governesses, secured on invested capital, and thus independent of the prosperity of the Institution.

Provident Fund.—Provident Annuities purchased by Ladies in any way connected with education, upon Government Security, agreeably to the Act of Parliament. This branch includes a Savings Bank.

A Home for Governesses during the intervals between their engagements.

A System of Registration entirely free of expense.

An Asylum for the Aged.

MEMBERSHIP consists in the payment of an Annual Guinea, or of Ten Guineas in one sum. Subscribers are entitled to vote for Annuities in the proportion of One Vote for each Annual Half-Guinea not in arrear, and for each Donation of Five Guineas. Subscriptions are due on the 1st of January, and can always be remitted by Post Office Order, or by a Cheque crossed, "Sir S. SCOTT and Co."

THE C. M. U.

National Benevolent Association.

This Charity embraces the whole of London and the Suburban Towns.

OFFICE:—22, LAMB'S CONDUIT STREET.

OBJECT.

- 1.—To assist the struggling and DESERVING poor.
- 2.—To save those who have fallen into temporary distress from the degradation and miseries of PAUPERISM.

* * Subscribers to this Charity of 10s. and upwards, receive the FULL VALUE of their contributions in Tickets for Bread, Meat, Coal, and Grocery.

The means employed are twofold, viz. :—

1st.—By Tickets to supply the destitute with food and fuel, available throughout the year, and in all parts of London and the suburban towns.

2nd.—Small grants of money to widows, broken-down tradesmen, orphans, and others, enabling them to obtain employment.

Subscribers not wishing to distribute their bounty may return the tickets, signed, to the honorary secretary, who will supply them to some of the voluntary visitors of the Society for distribution to the deserving poor at their own dwellings.

Contributions will be gratefully received by MESSRS. WILLIAMS, DEACON & Co., 20, Birchinn-lane; Mr. BROMAGE, 86, Southampton-row, W.C.; and by the Hon. Secretary, FREDK. COX, 22, Lamb's Conduit-street, W.C.

THE DAILY NEWS,

A HIGH-CLASS LIBERAL PAPER.

PRICE ONE PENNY.

SOLD ALL OVER THE KINGDOM.

IN Politics the DAILY NEWS has always held an Independent Course, and its services to the Cause of Civil and Religious Liberty are everywhere known.

In Literature, Music, the Drama, and the Fine Arts, the utmost care is taken to supply the Public with Sound and Impartial Criticisms, and no paper contains earlier or more accurate intelligence.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

The DAILY NEWS circulates very extensively amongst private families in the various classes of society, and is especially appreciated in commercial circles. Its sale has increased two thousand per cent. since the reduction in price to one penny, and, having no supplement, it is the best advertising medium in the kingdom.

Employers and Servants will find the DAILY NEWS a most valuable channel in making known their wants to each other.

"THE GLOBE."

PRICE ONE PENNY.

ESTABLISHED 1803.

THIS paper consistently advocates sound Constitutional doctrine, and gives an independent support to the great Conservative party. It advocates, and has always advocated, an extension of the suffrage to many classes, and all needful reforms.

By recent changes in the Press, the GLOBE, in 1870, will remain well-nigh THE ONLY PURE EVENING PAPER, as it was almost the first established.

In the News Department great energy is manifested to obtain the latest news. It has always the character of receiving the earliest official intelligence.

The GLOBE has a very large and increasing circulation, and is read extensively in the following influential quarters:—The Monetary and Mercantile Interests of London and the principal Cities, the Nobility and Gentry, the Clubs at the West of London, the Reading-rooms and Chambers of Commerce of the United Kingdom and principal Continental Cities, in America and the Colonies, at all the Railway Stations, and by the Public at large.

ADVERTISEMENTS ARE INSERTED AT A MODERATE CHARGE.

Rates and Copies of the Paper sent on application.

B. S. WILLIAMS,
 NURSERYMAN, SEED MERCHANT, AND FLORIST,
VICTORIA AND PARADISE NURSERY,
 UPPER HOLLOWAY,
 LONDON, N.,

Respectfully invites the Nobility and Gentry about to furnish their Conservatories, Greenhouses, Stoves, and Orchid Houses, to an inspection of his Stock of Magnificent Specimens, that are unequalled in this country, consisting of

THE CHOICEST AND RAREST EXOTICS,

TREE FERNS, DRACÆNAS, PALMS, CAMELLIAS, AZALEAS, AGAVES, YUCCAS, CYCADS, BEAUCARNEAS, ARALIAS, AND ALL KINDS OF FLOWERING,
 STOVE, AND GREENHOUSE PLANTS.

Besides the LARGE CONSERVATORY, which is at all times of the year worth a visit, there are Nineteen Houses, consisting of ORCHID HOUSES, PALM STOVES (to which many new and interesting Plants have of late been added), NEW HOLLAND HOUSES, FERN HOUSES, AZALEA HOUSES, &c., replete with Plants which, by the interest and instruction they will afford, will well repay a visit.

The COLLECTION of MEXICAN PLANTS at this Nursery is unsurpassed in Great Britain, with the exception of the one at the Kew Gardens.

All New Plants that are worthy of notice are to be seen here. The Houses have all been erected within the last Four Years, and have been built to suit the requirements of the Plants, which is one of the surest roads to success in their cultivation.

Should Purchasers require Selections or Collections of Plants, they may depend upon having them put up with judgment. In such cases it is advisable to supply a List of the kinds already possessed.

LIST OF NEW WORKS.

VOL. II. OF HER MAJESTY'S TOWER. By
W. HEPWORTH DIXON. DEDICATED BY EXPRESS PER-MISSION TO THE QUEEN. Fourth Edition. Demy 8vo. 15s.

CONTENTS:—The Anglo-Spanish Plot—Factions at Court—Lord Grey of Wilton—Old English Catholics—The English Jesuits—White Webbs—The Priests' Plot—Wilton Court—Last of a Noble Line—Powder-Plot Room—Guy Fawkes—Origin of the Plot—Vinegar House—Conspiracy at Large—The Jesuit's Move—In London—November, 1605—Hunted Down—In the Tower—Search for Garnet—End of the English Jesuits—The Catholic Lords—Harry Percy—The Wizard Earl—A Real Arabella Plot—William Seymour—The Escape—Pursuit—Dead in the Tower—Lady Frances Howard—Robert Carr—Powder Poisoning—The End.

FROM THE TIMES:—"All the civilized world—English, Continental, and American—takes an interest in the Tower of London. The Tower is the stage upon which has been enacted some of the grandest dramas and saddest tragedies in our national annals. If, in imagination, we take our stand on those time-worn walls, and let century after century flit past us, we shall see in due succession the majority of the most famous men and lovely women of England in the olden time. We shall see them jesting, jousting, love-making, plotting, and then anon, perhaps, commending their souls to God in the presence of a hideous masked figure, bearing an axe in his hands. It is such pictures as these that Mr. Dixon, with considerable skill as an historical limner, has set before us in these volumes. Mr. Dixon dashes off the scenes of Tower history with great spirit. His descriptions are given with such terseness and vigour that we should spoil them by any attempt at condensation. As favourable examples of his narrative powers we may call attention to the story of the beautiful but unpopular Elinor, Queen of Henry III., and the description of Anne Boleyn's first and second arrivals at the Tower. Then we have the story of the bold Bishop of Durham, who escapes by the aid of a cord hidden in a wine-jar; and the tale of Maud Fitzwalter, imprisoned and murdered by the catiff John. Passing onwards, we meet Charles of Orleans, the poetic French Prince, captured at Agincourt, and detained for five-and-twenty years a prisoner in the Tower. Next we encounter the baleful form of Richard of Gloucester, and are filled with indignation at the blackest of the black Tower deeds. As we draw nearer to modern times, we have the sorrowful story of the Nine Days' Queen, poor little Lady Jane Grey. The chapter entitled "No Cross, no Crown" is one of the most affecting in the book. A mature man can scarcely read it without feeling the tears ready to trickle from his eyes. No part of the first volume yields in interest to the chapters which are devoted to the story of Sir Walter Raleigh. The greater part of the second volume is occupied with the story of the Gunpowder Plot. The narrative is extremely interesting, and will repay perusal. Another cause célèbre possessed of a perennial interest, is the murder of Sir Thomas Overbury by Lord and Lady Somerset. Mr. Dixon tells the tale skilfully. In conclusion, we may congratulate the author on this, his latest work. Both volumes are decidedly attractive, and throw much light on our national history, but we think the palm of superior interest must be awarded to the second volume."

FROM THE ATHENÆUM:—"The present volume is superior in sustained interest to that by which it was preceded. The whole details are so picturesquely narrated, that the reader is carried away by the narrative. The stories are told with such knowledge of new facts as to make them like hitherto unwritten chapters in our history."

FROM THE MORNING POST:—"This volume fascinates the reader's imagination and stimulates his curiosity, whilst throwing floods of pure light on several of the most perplexing matters of James the First's reign. Not inferior to any of the author's previous works of history in respect of discernment and logical soundness, it equals them in luminous expression, and surpasses some of them in romantic interest."

VOL. I. OF HER MAJESTY'S TOWER. By W. HEPWORTH DIXON. DEDICATED BY EXPRESS PERMISSION TO THE QUEEN. Sixth Edition. Demy 8vo. 15s.

CONTENTS:—The Pile—Inner Ward and Outer Ward—The Wharf—River Rights—The White Tower—Charles of Orleans—Uncle Gloucester—Prison Rules—Beauchamp Tower—The good Lord Cobham—King and Cardinal—The Pilgrimage of Grace—Madge Cheyne—Heirs to the Crown—The Nine Days' Queen—De-throned—The Men of Kent—Courtney—No Cross no Crown—Cranmer, Latimer, Ridley—White Roses—Princess Margaret—Plot and Counterplot—Monsieur Charles—Bishop of Ross—Murder of Northumberland—Philip the Confessor—Mass in the Tower—Sir Walter Raleigh—The Arabella Plot—Raleigh's Walk—The Villain Wead—The Garden House—The Brick Tower.

"From first to last this volume overflows with new information and original thought, with poetry and picture. In these fascinating pages Mr. Dixon discharges alternately the functions of the historian, and the historic biographer, with the insight, art, humour and accurate knowledge which never fail him when he undertakes to illumine the darksome recesses of our national story."—Morning Post.

"We earnestly recommend this remarkable volume to those in quest of amusement and instruction, at once solid and refined. It is a most eloquent and graphic historical narrative, by a ripe scholar and an accomplished master of English diction, and a valuable commentary on the social aspect of mediæval and Tudor civilization. In Mr. Dixon's pages are related some of the most moving records of human flesh and blood to which human ear could listen."—Daily Telegraph.

"It is needless to say that Mr. Dixon clothes the gray stones of the old Tower with a new and more living interest than most of us have felt before. It is needless to say that the stories are admirably told, for Mr. Dixon's style is full of vigour and liveliness, and he would make a far duller subject than this tale of tragic suffering and heroism into an interesting volume. This book is as fascinating as a good novel, yet it has all the truth of veritable history."—Daily News.

"It is impossible to praise too highly this most entrancing history. A better book has seldom, and a brighter one has never, been issued to the world by any master of the delightful art of historic illustration."—Star.

"We can highly recommend Mr. Dixon's work. It will enhance his reputation. The whole is charmingly written, and there is a life, a spirit, and a reality about the sketches of the celebrated prisoners of the Tower, which give the work the interest of a romance. 'Her Majesty's Tower' is likely to become one of the most popular contributions to history."—Standard.

"In many respects this noble volume is Mr. Dixon's masterpiece. The book is a microcosm of our English history; and throughout it is penned with an eloquence as remarkable for its vigorous simplicity as for its luminous picturesqueness. It more than sustains Mr. Dixon's reputation. It enhances it."—Sun.

"This is a work of great value. It cannot fail to be largely popular and to maintain its author's reputation. It bears throughout the marks of careful study, keen observation, and that power of seizing upon those points of a story that are of real importance, which is the most precious possession of the historian. To all historic documents, ancient and modern, Mr. Dixon has had unequalled facilities of access, and his work will in future be the trusted and popular history of the Tower. He has succeeded in giving a splendid panorama of English history."—Globe.

"This charming volume will be the most permanently popular of all Mr. Dixon's works. Under the treatment of so practised a master of our English tongue the story of the Tower becomes more fascinating than the daintiest of romances."—Examiner.

LIFE AND REMAINS OF ROBERT LEE, D.D.,

F.R.S.E., Minister of the Church and Parish of Old Greyfriars, Professor of Biblical Criticism and Antiquities in the University of Edinburgh, Dean of the Chapel Royal of Holyrood, and Chaplain in Ordinary to the Queen. By ROBERT HERBERT STORY, Minister of Rosneath; with an Introductory Chapter by Mrs. OLIPHANT, author of "The Life of the Rev. Edward Irving," &c. 2 vols. demy 8vo, with Portrait. 30s.

"We need make no apology to our readers for calling their attention to the life and writings of a man who, by the force and energy of his character, has left an indelible mark on the annals of his country. It is but a small thing for a man to leave a mere name behind him, even though that name be famous; it is a far higher merit to bequeath to posterity a living influence, and this Dr. Lee has certainly accomplished. We cordially commend the perusal of this book to everybody."—Times.

"This memoir fulfils one of the best uses of biography, in making us acquainted not only with a man of remarkable character, talent, and energy, but in throwing light upon a very distinct phase of society. It is a very curious and important chapter of contemporary history, as well as the story of a good and able life, devoted to the service of God and man. Such a book as the present is admirably fitted to supply the knowledge which is necessary to any true comprehension of the aims and reasonings of the mass of the Scotch people,—and as such we recommend it to the intelligent reader. Besides this—if we may use the expression—historical interest, Mr. Story has succeeded in calling forth a very distinct individual portrait. The extracts from Dr. Lee's common-place book are full of a serious and genuine thoughtfulness: there is much reality and life in them, and nothing can surpass their good sense and unexaggerated liberality of tone."—Spectator.

"Mr. Story has done his work remarkably well: with clear insight into the character of the remarkable man whose career he delineates, with precision of speech and thought, with moderation, judgment, and intelligent sympathy. He steers his way with a firm hand through the stormy seas of Scotch ecclesiastical politics, his own goal being clearly marked out to him from the beginning. Mrs. Oliphant's preliminary sketch is brief, but to the point, and worthy of the authoress of 'The Life of Edward Irving,' and the inimitable 'Salem Chapel.' The selections from Dr. Lee's own writings and speeches are excellently made, and are often highly characteristic. The whole work is a faithful record of a remarkable career, drawn for the most part in the words of the man himself, and none the less valuable on that account."—Fraser's Magazine.

"This is an interesting book. Dr. Lee has been fortunate in his biographer. A more striking story of the gradual rise and thorough self-cultivation of a determined inborn student, it would be difficult to name."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"By all to whom the recent history of the Church of Scotland has any interest, this book will be valued as a most important and instructive record; and to the personal friends of Dr. Lee it will be most welcome as a worthy memorial of his many labours, his great talents, and his public and private virtues. The character of Dr. Lee's work, and the character of the man who did it, are very clearly, fully, and firmly portrayed in Mr. Story's memoir. The tone of the book is mainly and liberal."—Scotsman.

"Mr. Story has invested his subject with unflinching interest. The reader of these volumes will gather at once a fair idea of the recent and existent phases of Presbyterianism in the Established Church, and will experience the pleasure which vivacious, forcible, and picturesque writing will always confer."—Observer.

"We welcome this book, and recommend it to notice. It will, we trust have the effect of introducing Dr. Lee as he really was, to a wide circle of readers."—Glasgow Herald.

"These volumes make attractive reading, and are sure to have what they deserve—a great run."—North British Mail.

MESSRS. HURST AND BLACKETT'S NEW WORKS—Continued.

A BOOK ABOUT THE CLERGY. By J. C. JEAFFRESON, B.A., Oxon, author of "A Book about Lawyers," "A Book about Doctors," &c. 2 vols 8vo. 30s.

FRANCIS THE FIRST, AND OTHER HISTORIC STUDIES. By A. BAILLIE COCHRANE. 2 vols. post 8vo. 21s.

"A pleasant, interesting, and entertaining work."—Daily News.

"These eloquent volumes contain three interesting and instructive studies: 'Francis the First,' 'The Council of Blood,' and 'The Flight of Varennes.' It will not lessen the attraction of their bright pages that the author deals mainly with the romantic elements of these historical passages."—Morning Post.

"The first volume of Mr. Cochrane's new work contains a history of Francis I. from his accession to his release from his captivity in Spain. The second contains 'The Council of Blood,' a narrative of the tragic end which befel the chivalrous but too credulous Count Egmont; and, lastly, the unsuccessful attempt of the Royal Family of France to escape from Paris in 1789, known as the 'Flight of Varennes.' Each of these episodes affords scope for highly dramatic treatment, and we have to congratulate Mr. Cochrane upon a very successful attempt to bring strongly into the foreground three very momentous occurrences in the history of the last three centuries. We strongly recommend these volumes to our readers."—Globe.

SPIRITUAL WIVES. By W. HEPWORTH DIXON, Author of 'NEW AMERICA,' &c. FOURTH EDITION, with A NEW PREFACE. 2 vols. 8vo. With Portrait of the Author. 30s.

"Mr. Dixon has treated his subject in a philosophical spirit, and in his usual graphic manner. There is, to our thinking, more pernicious doctrine in one chapter of some of the sensational novels which find admirers in drawing-rooms and eulogists in the press than in the whole of Mr. Dixon's interesting work."—Examiner.

"No more wondrous narrative of human passion and romance, no stranger contribution to the literature of psychology than Mr. Dixon's book has been published since man first began to seek after the laws that govern the moral and intellectual life of the human race. To those readers who seek in current literature the pleasures of intellectual excitement we commend it as a work that affords more entertainment than can be extracted from a score of romances. But its power to amuse is less noteworthy than its instructiveness on matters of highest moment. 'Spiritual Wives' will be studied with no less profit than interest."—Morning Post.

PRINCE CHARLES AND THE SPANISH MARRIAGE: A Chapter of English History, 1617 to 1623; from Unpublished Documents in the Archives of Simancas, Venice, and Brussels. By SAMUEL RAWSON GARDINER. 2 vols. 8vo. 30s.

"We commend Mr. Gardiner's volumes to all students of history. They have the merit of being forcibly and ably written; and they present intelligent, graphic, and reliable pictures of the period to which they relate."—Examiner.

"A work which has the fullest claim to fill up part of the gap in English history between the period treated by Mr. Froide and that treated by Lord Macaulay, and to take rank with the writings of these historians. The book is not merely an account of the Spanish marriage, but the best and most authentic account of that critical time of English history which preceded and led to the civil war."—Guardian.

"We doubt not that the reception of Mr. Gardiner's valuable and interesting volumes will be such as is due to their high merit. For the first time in our literature the real history of the Spanish match, and what took place when Charles and Buckingham were at Madrid, is here revealed. In these interesting volumes Mr. Gardiner has brought to bear upon his subject an amount of historical reading and consultation of authorities which we believe to be almost without a parallel."—Notes and Queries.

THE LIFE OF ROSSINI. By H. SUTHERLAND
EDWARDS. 1 vol. 8vo, with fine Portrait. 15s

"An eminently interesting, readable, and trustworthy book. Mr. Edwards was instinctively looked to for a life of Rossini, and the result is a very satisfactory one. The salient features of Rossini's life and labours are grouped in admirable order; and the book, while it conveys everything necessary to an accurate idea of its subject, is as interesting as a novel."—Sunday Times.

"Mr. Edwards has rendered a service to his brother connoisseurs and critics, and not less to the general public, in these lively and attractive pages. The work must be acknowledged a very fit memorial of Rossini. It is the fruit of great knowledge and much critical aptitude."—Star.

"Mr. Sutherland Edwards is thoroughly qualified to be Rossini's biographer. To a sound judgment and elegant taste, he adds a competent share of artistic and technical acquirements. In his narrative of facts he is useful and accurate; and his opinions are uniformly candid and dispassionate. His work is written with easy and unaffected grace; and we have nowhere met with a more judicious estimate of the artistic and personal character of one of the brightest luminaries of the nineteenth century."—Illustrated News.

"Rossini's life has been well written by Mr. Edwards. It will amuse everybody."—Telegraph.

LUCREZIA BORGIA, DUCHESS OF FERRARA; A
Biography: Illustrated by Rare and Unpublished Documents. By WILLIAM GILBERT, author of "Sir Thomas Branston," "Shirley Hall Asylum," &c. 2 vols. post 8vo, with Portrait. 21s.

"A very interesting study of the character of Lucrezia Borgia. Mr. Gilbert has done good service in carefully investigating the evidence on which the charges rest which have been brought against her, and his researches are likely to produce the more effect inasmuch as their results have been described in a manner likely to prove generally interesting. His clear and unaffected style is admirably adapted for biography, and the chapters which are devoted to Lucrezia's life tell its story very well. That Mr. Gilbert will succeed in amusing and interesting his readers may be safely predicted."—Saturday Review.

"This book is throughout pleasant reading, and all the more interesting from the novel nature of its contents. As a literary performance, Mr. Gilbert's work is highly to be commended. The biography is carefully written, and the author appears to have omitted nothing which might serve to illustrate the life and conduct of Lucrezia."—Examiner.

CHAUCER'S ENGLAND. By MATTHEW BROWNE.
2 vols. post 8vo, with Portrait and numerous Illustrations. 24s.

"This is a masterly book on a great subject. Chaucer has found in Mr. Browne his most genial and intelligent expositor. There is not a dull or common-place sentence to be found in this entirely delightful book."—Spectator.

"This book will find an honourable place in many a library."—Athenæum.

"Pleasanter and, let us add, more trustworthy volumes have never been written on a subject so dear to every Englishman as these two interesting volumes of 'Chaucer's England.'"—Examiner.

"A delightful and entertaining book. For the charm of its style, the beauty of its illustrations, and the truth and vividness of its pictures, 'Chaucer's England' will have a place on the shelves of all lovers of English poetry and history."—Globe.

THE GLADSTONE GOVERNMENT: Being
CABINET PICTURES. By a TEMPLAR. 1 vol. demy 8vo. 14s.

"No small measure of commendation is due to the Templar, who writes with a skilful pen, and displays such knowledge of political men and cliques. This acceptable book is sure to be in demand, for it supplies just such information as general readers like to have about men of mark."—Athenæum.

"This book, which merits attention, contains an interesting account of the principal persons who figure in the present Cabinet."—Pall Mall Gazette.

FAIRY FANCIES. By LIZZIE SELINA EDEN. Illustrated by the MARCHIONESS OF HASTINGS. 1 vol. 10s. 6d.

"The Wandering Lights"—the first of the 'Fairy Fancies'—is a more beautiful production, truer to the inspiration of Nature, and more likely to be genuinely attractive to the imagination of childhood, than the famous 'Story without an End.' 'The Wandering Lights' is as beautiful, as fanciful, as rich in suggestion, but more lively, more vivid; and its lessons, addressed to the heart and to the fancy, are drawn from sources more familiar and easy of recourse to a child's mind and experience. The story is a strikingly beautiful combination of poetical, natural imagery, and pure, wholesome, household life; and true poetry of human existence."—Examiner.

"The Princess Ilse' is a story which is perfectly charming. It has great beauty and a real human interest."—Athenæum.

"This volume is exactly one of those which most profoundly touch and stir the truest Christmas feelings—of goodwill not to men alone, but to all the mysterious world of associations amid which man lives."—Daily Telegraph.

"The illustrations to this work are highly creditable to the Marchioness of Hastings. They are totally different in style, but exhibit a fertility of design and a facility of execution which would be no discredit to a professional artist."—Observer.

MY HOLIDAY IN AUSTRIA. By LIZZIE SELINA EDEN, author of "A Lady's Glimpse of the War in Bohemia." 1 vol. post 8vo, with Illustrations. 10s. 6d.

"A pleasantly-written volume."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"Miss Eden enjoyed her holiday, and her readers will have a share in her pleasure. Her work is easy and fluent in style, lively and pleasant in matter."—Athenæum.

"A frankly written and chatty account of a very pleasant holiday in the Austrian Tyrol. Besides her acute observations of the habits and manners of the people, Miss Eden's pages show signs of her appreciation of natural scenery and of the prominent objects of industry and art."—Saturday Review.

"Miss Eden has the art of writing travels. Her book is a good one, written always in good temper and in good English."—Examiner.

ELEPHANT HAUNTS: being a Sportsman's Narrative of the Search for Dr. Livingstone, with Scenes of Elephant, Buffalo, and Hippopotamus Hunting. By HENRY FAULKNER, late 17th Lancers. 1 vol. 8vo, with Illustrations. 15s.

"A very readable book. In its proportion of successes to failures, we never read a more wonderful narrative of African sport than 'Elephant Haunts.'"—Pall Mall.

"The most exciting book since the adventures of Gordon Cumming."—Messenger.

THROUGH SPAIN TO THE SAHARA. By MATILDA BETHAM-EDWARDS. Author of 'A Winter with the Swallows,' &c. 1 vol. 8vo, with Illustrations.

"Miss Edwards is an excellent traveller. She has a keen eye for the beautiful in nature and art, and in description her language has a polished and easy grace that reminds us of Eothen."—Saturday Review.

"Miss Edwards' sketches are lively and original, and her volume supplies pleasant reading."—Athenæum.

A TRIP TO THE TROPICS, AND HOME THROUGH AMERICA. By the MARQUIS OF LORNE. Second Edition. 1 vol. 8vo, with Illustrations. 15s.

"The best book of travels of the season."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"The tone of Lord Lorne's book is thoroughly healthy and vigorous, and his remarks upon men and things are well-reasoned and acute."—Times.

"A pleasant record of travel in the Western Islands and the United States. Lord Lorne saw a good deal of society both in the South and in the North. His tone is good, without undue partisan feeling. We can offer him our congratulations on his first essay as a traveller and an author."—Athenæum.

SAINTS AND SINNERS; OR, IN CHURCH AND ABOUT IT. By Dr. DORAN. 2 vols. large post 8vo. 24s.

CONTENTS:—The Magnates of the Old Church—The Old Folk of the Old Church—Life Round St. Paul's Cross—Sceptre and Crosier—Throne and Pulpit—Ordination—Preferment—Congregations—Pews—Notes on Stray Sermons—Font, Altar, and Grave—Irregular Marriages—Long and Short Sermons—Texts and Church Stories—Style at Home—Titles and Dress—Sports and Pastimes—The Joy Songs of the Church—Royal, Military, Naval, Family, and Newgate Chaplains—Popular and Fashionable Churches—Fashionable Congregations—Country Clergymen—Honorary—Slang in High Places—Axe and Crosier—The Pulpit and the Boards, &c.

"This is by far Dr. Doran's best work. He has taken the humourist's view of our ecclesiastical history, and gossips with characteristic ability about the drolleries and eccentricities of the venerable order which in these later times has given us a fair proportion of sound scholars and good Christians. We congratulate him on the production of a book which abounds in comical stories about solemn matters, and yet is so pure of irreverence that of the laughter which is sure to ring out over its pages the loudest will be heard within country parsonages."—Athenæum.

"Few writers know so well as Dr. Doran how to make a lively, gossiping book. He has added another to his list of works of this description in 'Saints and Sinners' The book deals with men and things connected with our ecclesiastical organizations, and especially with the Church of England. It is easy for anyone of ordinary experience to understand what a mine of anecdote is to be found in such a field, Dr. Doran, however, has discovered lodes which were not within the common ken, and has shown how rich they are in amusing stories. These volumes are among the pleasantest and most amusing of the season."—Star.

DAR- WIN, Esq., M.A., F.R.S., Miss WEDGWOOD, and other Original Sources. With an Introductory Sketch of the Art of Pottery in England. By ELIZA METEYARD. Dedicated to the Right Hon. W. E. GLADSTONE. Complete in 2 vols. 8vo, with Portraits and 300 other Beautiful Illustrations, elegantly bound.

"A work that is indispensable to all who wish to know anything about English ceramic art and its great inventor. The volumes are in themselves marvels of decorative and typographical skill. More beautifully printed pages, more creamy paper, and more dainty wood-cuts have seldom met our eyes."—Saturday Review.

THE LIFE AND CORRESPONDENCE OF THOMAS SLINGSBY DUNCOMBE, LATE M.P. FOR FINSBURY. By his Son, THOMAS H. DUNCOMBE. 2 vols. 8vo, with Portrait. 30s.

"These volumes contain much racy anecdote, and some startling disclosures which will ruffle politicians. Mr. Duncombe's singular career is ably handled by his only child. He tells us much that the world did not know concerning his remarkable sire."—Athenæum.

A BOOK ABOUT LAWYERS. By J. C. JEAFFRESON, Barrister-at-Law, author of 'A Book about Doctors,' &c. New, Revised, and Cheaper Edition. 2 vols. post 8vo. 24s.

PRINCIPAL CONTENTS:—The Great Seal, Royal Portraits, The Practice of Sealing, Lords Commissioners, On Damasking, The Rival Seals, Purses of State, A Lady Keeper, Lawyers in Arms, The Devil's Own, Lawyers on Horseback, Chancellors' Cavalcades, Ladies in Law Colleges, York House, Fowls House, Lincoln's Inn Fields, The Old Law Quarter, Loves of the Lawyers, The Three Graces, Rejected Addresses, Brothers in Trouble, Fees to Counsel, Retainers Special and General, Judicial Corruption, Gifts and Sales, Judicial Salaries, Costume and Toilet, Millinery, Wigs, Bands and Collars, Bags and Gowns, The Singing Barrister, Actors at the Bar, Political Lawyers, The Peers, Lawyers in the House, Legal Education, Inns of Court and Inns of Chancery, Lawyers and Gentlemen, Law French and Law Latin, Readers and Mootmen, Pupils in Chambers, Wit of Lawyers, Humorous Stories, Wits in Silk and Punsters in Ermine, Circuiters, Witnesses, Lawyers and Saints, Lawyers in Court and Society, Attorneys at Law, Westminster Hall, Law and Literature, &c.

"'A Book about Lawyers' deserves to be very popular. Mr. Jeaffreson has accomplished his work in a very creditable manner. He has taken pains to collect information from persons as well as from books, and he writes with a sense of keen enjoyment which greatly enhances the reader's pleasure. He introduces us to Lawyerdome under a variety of phases—we have lawyers in arms, lawyers on horseback, lawyers in love, and lawyers in Parliament. We are told of their salaries and fees, their wigs and gowns, their jokes and gaieties. We meet them at home and abroad, in court, in chambers, and in company. In the chapters headed 'Mirth,' the author has gathered together a choice sheaf of anecdotes from the days of More down to Erskine and Eldon."—Times.

"These volumes will afford pleasure and instruction to all who read them, and they will increase the reputation which Mr. Jeaffreson has already earned by his large industry and great ability. We are indebted to him for about seven hundred pages, all devoted to the history and illustration of legal men and things. It is much that we can say for a book, that there is not a superfluous page in it."—Athenæum.

"The success of his 'Book about Doctors' has induced Mr. Jeaffreson to write another book—about Lawyers. The subject is attractive. It is a bright string of anecdotes, skilfully put together, on legal topics of all sorts, but especially in illustration of the lives of famous lawyers. Mr. Jeaffreson has not only collected a large number of good stories, but he has grouped them pleasantly, and tells them well. We need say little to recommend a book that can speak for itself so pleasantly. No livelier reading is to be found among the new books of the season."—Examiner.

HISTORIC PICTURES. By A. BAILLIE COCHRANE, 2 vols. post 8vo.

"Mr. Baillie Cochrane has published two entertaining volumes of studies from history. They are lively reading. 'My aim,' he says, 'has been to depict events generally known in a light and, if possible, a picturesque manner.' Mr. Cochrane has been quite successful in carrying out this intention. The work is a study of the more interesting moments of history—what, indeed, the author himself calls it, 'Historic Pictures.'"—Times.

From his Family Papers. By the Right Hon. MARY VISCOUNTESS
COMBERMERE and Capt. W. W. KNOLLYS. 2 v. 8vo, with Portraits.

"The gallant Stapleton Cotton, Viscount Combermere, was one of those men who belong to two epochs. He was a soldier, actively engaged, nearly ten years before the last century came to its troubled close; and he was among us but as yesterday, a noble veteran, gloriously laden with years, laurels, and pleasant reminiscences. "A fresh and fascinating book, full of matter and beauty. It is one of the most instructive books of travel of the season, and one of the brightest. It would be difficult to overpraise it."—Spectator.

LADY ARABELLA STUART'S LIFE AND LETTERS: including numerous Original and Unpublished Documents. By ELIZABETH COOPER. 2 vols., with Portrait.

"The 'Life and Letters of Lady Arabella Stuart' is an unusually good specimen of its class. Miss Cooper has really worked at her subject. She has read a good deal of MSS. and, what is better still, she has printed a good deal of what she has read. The book has a real and substantial historical value."—Saturday Review.

THE BEAUTIFUL IN NATURE AND ART.

By MRS. ELLIS. Author of 'The Women of England,' &c. 1 vol.
crown 8vo, with fine Portrait. 10s. 6d.

"With pleasure her numerous admirers will welcome a new book by the popular authoress of 'The Women of England.' A very charming volume is this new work by Mrs. Ellis. Its aim is to assist the young students of art in those studies and subjects of thought which shall enable them rightly to appreciate and realise that oft-quoted truth, 'A thing of beauty is a joy for ever.' The work will interest many fair readers."—Sun.

THE UNKIND WORD, AND OTHER STORIES. By the Author of "JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN," &c. 2 vols.

"The author of 'John Halifax' has written some interesting and fascinating stories, but we can call to mind nothing from her pen that has a more enduring charm than the fresh and graceful sketches she has placed in these volumes. Such a character as Jessie in 'The Unkind Word' stands out from a crowd of heroines as the type of all that is truly noble, pure and womanly. We cordially recommend these volumes to every reader who can be charmed by the portrayal from the hand of an artist of scenes, emotions, and experiences which, having none of the meretricious aids from sensationalism, are true to nature and abidingly attractive." United Service Mag.

"These stories are gems of narrative. Indeed, some of them, in their touching grace and simplicity, seem to us to possess a charm even beyond the author's most popular novels."—Echo.

HAGAR. By the Author of "St. Olave's." 3 vols.

ANNALS OF AN EVENTFUL LIFE. Second Edition. 3 vols.

"This is a very interesting novel: wit, humour, and keen observation abound in every page, while the characters are lifelike and most accurately drawn. For a long while we have not met a work of fiction containing such a fund of varied entertainment in its three volumes. We fancy this is the writer's first novel, but the strength and purity of his style make us suspect that he is no novice in literature."—Times, Jan. 17.

"A thoroughly original and incessantly brilliant novel. Every chapter is brisk, fresh, sparkling, and strong."—Morning Post.

ONE MAIDEN ONLY. By E. CAMPBELL TAINSH, author of "St. Alice," "Crowned," &c. 3 vols. (In Feb.)

DEBENHAM'S VOW. By AMELIA B. EDWARDS, author of "Barbara's History," &c. 3 vols.

"'Debenham's Vow' is decidedly a clever book. The story is pure and interesting, and most of the characters are natural, while some of them are charming."—Saturday Review.

"This work is highly creditable to the author."—Athenæum.

"There is everything to amuse and interest in this book. There is a wealth of excellent and spirited delineations of persons and events, and positively new ground broken as the scene of the incidents of a novel."—Post.

THE DUKE'S HONOUR. By EDWARD WILBER- FORCE, author of "Social Life in Munich," &c. 3 vols.

"A decidedly clever novel. The characters are drawn with skill and humour."—Athenæum.

"This novel has many merits. There is life in it and vigour."—Morning Post.

NOBLESSE OBLIGE. By SARAH TYTLER, author of "The Huguenot Family," &c. 3 vols.

"Whatever Miss Tytler publishes is worth reading. Her book is original and rich in observation. Her heroes and heroines are pure and noble studies in English life of the better sort, and we sincerely thank the author for a novel the interest of which lies in the virtue and not the wickedness of its personages."—Pall Mall.

"A great work—great in its aims and the manner in which these are realised. The author's style is almost perfect."—Contemporary Review.

FORGOTTEN BY THE WORLD. 3 vols.

"This novel is well written and readable."—Echo.

"The characters are remarkably well drawn."—John Bull.

THE MINISTER'S WIFE. By MRS. OLIPHANT, author of "Chronicles of Carlingford," "Salem Chapel," &c. 3 vols.

"The Minister's Wife' will not detract from the reputation which Mrs. Oliphant has so deservedly earned by her 'Salem Chapel,' and 'Chronicles of Carlingford.' The book abounds with excellent qualities. The characters are admirably painted."

—Times.

"The Minister's Wife' is in many important respects Mrs. Oliphant's most powerful and poetic work. It is a work abounding in delicate analyses and nice observation of man's emotional and religious nature, and surcharged with the elements of romantic excitement."—Athenæum.

"The Minister's Wife' is a story which, like the country it describes, is rich in pictures that are pleasant to see, scenes on which the eye gladly lingers, and which, like the people it portrays, is subtle in its reasonings and shrewd in its opinions, eloquent in its outbursts of feeling, and very tender in its natural and unstrained pathos."—Saturday Review.

"With the exception of George Eliot, there is no female novelist of the day comparable to Mrs. Oliphant. 'The Minister's Wife' is a powerful and vigorously written story. The characters are drawn with rare skill."—Daily News.

TRUE LOVE. By LADY DI BEAUCLERK, author of "A Summer and Winter in Norway." 1 vol.

"A charming story of 'True Love,' as fragrant and as welcome as the flowers of May. The plot is skilfully interwoven, and carries the interest of the reader with anxiety to the denouement. The characters are sketched most artistically. There is true pathos in the work, and a keen sense of humour."—Morning Post.

SIR THOMAS BRANSTON. By W. GILBERT, author of 'Lucrezia Borgia,' 'Shirley Hall Asylum,' &c. 3 vols.

"The separate portions of this story are told so distinctly and powerfully that we cannot help being interested and fascinated."—Times.

"This book not only fixes our attention while we read, but rarer still, continues to claim it after we have finished."—Saturday Review.

"An extremely interesting novel."—Athenæum.

THE VICAR'S COURTSHIP. By WALTER THORNBURY. 3 vols.

"This novel is thoroughly readable. The pictures of country life and scenery, the breezy downs, the pleasant lanes, the sun-flecked woods, form an admirable frame-work, and one in which Mr. Thornbury does well to take pride. All the incidents of art life are told with a skill which betrays the practised student. The characters of Amy Robinson, a charming little figure, and Julia Beanflower, the spirited dashing girl, ready with her wit and her tongue, have the charm and energy of life, and they use both to the great advantage of the story."—Athenæum.

GUY VERNON. By the HON. MRS. WOULFE. 3 v.

"A good novel in every sense of the word. It is a very interesting, graceful, stirring, and touching story, told in a clear, flowing style, and whose principal personage is a very lovely and loveable creature. Violet Harcourt is a creation of which any novelist might be proud."—Examiner.

Under the Especial Patronage of Her Majesty.

Published annually, in One Vol., royal 8vo, with the Arms beautifully engraved, handsomely bound, with gilt edges, price 31s. 6d.

LODGE'S PEERAGE AND BARONETAGE, CORRECTED BY THE NOBILITY.

THE THIRTY-NINTH EDITION FOR 1870 IS NOW READY.

LODGE'S PEERAGE AND BARONETAGE is acknowledged to be the most complete, as well as the most elegant, work of the kind. As an established and authentic authority on all questions respecting the family histories, honours, and connections of the titled aristocracy, no work has ever stood so high. It is published under the especial patronage of Her Majesty, and is annually corrected throughout, from the personal communications of the Nobility. It is the only work of its class in which, the type being kept constantly standing, every correction is made in its proper place to the date of publication, an advantage which gives it supremacy over all its competitors. Independently of its full and authentic information respecting the existing Peers and Baronets of the realm, the most sedulous attention is given in its pages to the collateral branches of the various noble families, and the names of many thousand individuals are introduced, which do not appear in other records of the titled classes. For its authority, correctness, and facility of arrangement, and the beauty of its typography and binding, the work is justly entitled to the place it occupies on the tables of Her Majesty and the Nobility.

LIST OF THE PRINCIPAL CONTENTS.

Historical View of the Peerage.	The Archbishops and Bishops of England, Ireland, and the Colonies.
Parliamentary Roll of the House of Lords.	The Baronetage alphabetically arranged.
English, Scotch, and Irish Peers, in their orders of Precedence.	Alphabetical List of Surnames assumed by members of Noble Families.
Alphabetical List of Peers of Great Britain and the United Kingdom, holding superior rank in the Scotch or Irish Peerage.	Alphabetical List of the Second Titles of Peers, usually borne by their Eldest Sons.
Alphabetical list of Scotch and Irish Peers, holding superior titles in the Peerage of Great Britain and the United Kingdom.	Alphabetical Index to the Daughters of Dukes, Marquises, and Earls, who, having married Commoners, retain the title of Lady before their own Christian and their Husband's Surnames.
A Collective list of Peers, in their order of Precedence.	Alphabetical Index to the Daughters of Viscounts and Barons, who, having married Commoners, are styled Honourable Mrs.; and, in case of the husband being a Baronet or Knight, Honourable Lady.
Table of Precedency among Men.	Mottos alphabetically arranged and translated.
Table of Precedency among Women.
The Queen and the Royal Family.
Peers of the Blood Royal.
The Peerage, alphabetically arranged.
Families of such Extinct Peers as have left Widows or Issue.
Alphabetical List of the Surnames of all the Peers.

"Lodge's Peerage must supersede all other works of the kind, for two reasons: first, it is on a better plan; and secondly, it is better executed. We can safely pronounce it to be the readiest, the most useful, and exactest of modern works on the subject."—Spectator.

"A work which corrects all errors of former works. It is a most useful publication."—Times.

"A work of great value. It is the most faithful record we possess of the aristocracy of the day."—Post.

"The best existing, and, we believe, the best possible peerage. It is the standard authority on the subject."—Herald.

HURST & BLACKETT'S STANDARD LIBRARY

OF CHEAP EDITIONS OF

POPULAR MODERN WORKS,

ILLUSTRATED BY MILLAIS, HOLMAN HUNT, LEECH, BIRKET FOSTER, JOHN GILBERT, TENNIEL, SANDYS, &c.

Each in a Single Volume, elegantly printed, bound, and illustrated, price 5s.

I.—SAM SLICK'S NATURE AND HUMAN NATURE.

"The first volume of Messrs. Hurst and Blackett's Standard Library of Cheap Editions forms a very good beginning to what will doubtless be a very successful undertaking. 'Nature and Human Nature' is one of the best of Sam Slick's witty and humorous productions, and is well entitled to the large circulation which it cannot fail to obtain in its present convenient and cheap shape. The volume combines with the great recommendations of a clear, bold type, and good paper, the lesser but attractive merits of being well illustrated and elegantly bound."—Post.

II.—JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN.

"This is a very good and a very interesting work. It is designed to trace the career from boyhood to age of a perfect man—a Christian gentleman; and it abounds in incident both well and highly wrought. Throughout it is conceived in a high spirit, and written with great ability. This cheap and handsome new edition is worthy to pass freely from hand to hand as a gift book in many households."—Examiner.

"The new and cheaper edition of this interesting work will doubtless meet with great success. John Halifax, the hero of this most beautiful story, is no ordinary hero, and this his history is no ordinary book. It is a full-length portrait of a true gentleman, one of nature's own nobility. It is also the history of a home, and a thoroughly English one. The work abounds in incident, and is full of graphic power and true pathos. It is a book that few will read without becoming wiser and better."—Scotsman.

III.—THE CRESCENT AND THE CROSS.

BY ELIOT WARBURTON.

"Independent of its value as an original narrative, and its useful and interesting information, this work is remarkable for the colouring power and play of fancy with which its descriptions are enlivened. Among its greatest and most lasting charms is its reverent and serious spirit."—Quarterly Review.

IV.—NATHALIE. By JULIA KAVANAGH.

"'Nathalie' is Miss Kavanagh's best imaginative effort. Its manner is gracious and attractive. Its matter is good. A sentiment, a tenderness, are commanded by her which are as individual as they are elegant."—Athenæum.

V.—A WOMAN'S THOUGHTS ABOUT WOMEN.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN."

"A book of sound counsel. It is one of the most sensible works of its kind, well-written, true-hearted, and altogether practical. Whoever wishes to give advice to a young lady may thank the author for means of doing so."—Examiner.

VI.—ADAM GRAEME. By MRS. OLIPHANT.

"A story awakening genuine emotions of interest and delight by its admirable pictures of Scottish life and scenery. The author gets before us the essential attributes of Christian virtue, their deep and silent workings in the heart, and their beautiful manifestations in life, with a delicacy, power, and truth which can hardly be surpassed."—Post

VII.—SAM SLICK'S WISE SAWS AND MODERN INSTANCES.

"The reputation of this book will stand as long as that of Scott's or Bulwer's Novels. Its remarkable originality and happy descriptions of American life still continue the subject of universal admiration. The new edition forms a part of Messrs. Hurst and Blackett's Cheap Standard Library, which has included some of the very best specimens of light literature that ever have been written."—Messenger.

VIII.—CARDINAL WISEMAN'S RECOLLECTIONS OF THE LAST FOUR POPES.

"A picturesque book on Rome and its ecclesiastical sovereigns, by an eloquent Roman Catholic. Cardinal Wiseman has treated a special subject with so much geniality, that his recollections will excite no ill-feeling in those who are most conscientiously opposed to every idea of human infallibility represented in Papal domination."—Athenæum.

IX.—A LIFE FOR A LIFE.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN."

"In 'A Life for a Life' the author is fortunate in a good subject, and has produced a work of strong effect."—Athenæum.

X.—THE OLD COURT SUBURB. By LEIGH HUNT.

"A delightful book, that will be welcome to all readers, and most welcome to those who have a love for the best kinds of reading."—Examiner.

"A more agreeable and entertaining book has not been published since Boswell produced his reminiscences of Johnson."—Observer.

XI.—MARGARET AND HER BRIDESMAIDS.

"We recommend all who are in search of a fascinating novel to read this work for themselves. They will find it well worth their while. There are a freshness and originality about it quite charming."—Athenæum.

XII.—THE OLD JUDGE. By SAM SLICK.

"The publications included in this Library have all been of good quality; many give information while they entertain, and of that class the book before us is a specimen. The manner in which the Cheap Editions forming the series is produced, deserves especial mention. The paper and print are unexceptionable; there is a steel engraving in each volume, and the outsides of them will satisfy the purchaser who likes to see books in handsome uniform."—Examiner.

XIII.—DARIEN. By ELIOT Warburton.

"This last production of the author of 'The Crescent and the Cross' has the same elements of a very wide popularity. It will please its thousands."—Globe.

XIV.—FAMILY ROMANCE; OR, DOMESTIC ANNALS OF THE ARISTOCRACY.

BY SIR BERNARD BURKE, ULSTER KING OF ARMS.

"It were impossible to praise too highly this most interesting book. It ought to be found on every drawing-room table."—Standard.

XV.—THE LAIRD OF NORLAW. By MRS. OLIPHANT.

"The 'Laird of Norlaw' fully sustains the author's high reputation."—Sunday Times.

XVI.—THE ENGLISHWOMAN IN ITALY.

"We can praise Mrs. Gretton's book as interesting, unexaggerated, and full of opportune instruction."—Times.

XVII.—NOTHING NEW.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN."

"'Nothing New' displays all those superior merits which have made 'John Halifax' one of the most popular works of the day."—Post.

XVIII.—FREER'S LIFE OF JEANNE D'ALBRET.

"Nothing can be more interesting than Miss Freer's story of the life of Jeanne D'Albret, and the narrative is as trustworthy as it is attractive."—Post.

XIX.—THE VALLEY OF A HUNDRED FIRES.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "MARGARET AND HER BRIDESMAIDS."

"If asked to classify this work, we should give it a place between 'John Halifax' and 'The Caxtons.'"—Standard.

XX.—THE ROMANCE OF THE FORUM.

BY PETER BURKE, SERGEANT AT LAW.

"A work of singular interest, which can never fail to charm. The present cheap and elegant edition includes the true story of the Colleen Bawn."—Illustrated News.

XXI.—ADELE. By JULIA KAVANAGH.

"'Adele' is the best work we have read by Miss Kavanagh; it is a charming story, full of delicate character-painting."—Athenæum.

XXII.—STUDIES FROM LIFE.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN."

"These 'Studies from Life' are remarkable for graphic power and observation. The book will not diminish the reputation of the accomplished author."—Saturday Review.

XXIII.—GRANDMOTHER'S MONEY.

"We commend 'Grandmother's Money' to readers in search of a good novel. The characters are true to human nature, the story is interesting."—Athenæum.

XXIV.—A BOOK ABOUT DOCTORS.

BY J. C. JEAFFRIESON.

"A delightful book."—Athenæum. "A book to be read and re-read; fit for the study as well as the drawing-room table and the circulating library."—Lancet.

XXV.—NO CHURCH.

"We advise all who have the opportunity to read this book."—Athenæum.

XXVI.—MISTRESS AND MAID.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN."

"A good wholesome book, gracefully written, and as pleasant to read as it is instructive."—Athenæum. "A charming tale charmingly told."—Standard.

XXVII.—LOST AND SAVED. By HON. MRS. NORTON.

"'Lost and Saved' will be read with eager interest. It is a vigorous novel."—Times.

"A novel of rare excellence. It is Mrs. Norton's best prose work."—Examiner.

XXVIII.—LES MISERABLES. By VICTOR HUGO.

AUTHORISED COPYRIGHT ENGLISH TRANSLATION.

"The merits of 'Les Misérables' do not merely consist in the conception of it as a whole; it abounds, page after page, with details of unequalled beauty. In dealing with all the emotions, doubts, fears, which go to make up our common humanity, M. Victor Hugo has stamped upon every page the hall-mark of genius."—Quarterly Review.

XXIX.—BARBARA'S HISTORY.

BY AMELIA B. EDWARDS.

"It is not often that we light upon a novel of so much merit and interest as 'Barbara's History.' It is a work conspicuous for taste and literary culture. It is a very graceful and charming book, with a well-managed story, clearly-cut characters, and sentiments expressed with an exquisite elocution. It is a book which the world will like. This is high praise of a work of art, and so we intend it."—Times.

XXX.—LIFE OF THE REV. EDWARD IRVING.

BY MRS. OLIPHANT.

"A good book on a most interesting theme."—Times.

"A truly interesting and most affecting memoir. Irving's Life ought to have a niche in every gallery of religious biography. There are few lives that will be fuller of instruction, interest, and consolation."—Saturday Review.

"Mrs. Oliphant's Life of Irving supplies a long-felt desideratum. It is copious, earnest and eloquent."—Edinburgh Review.

XXXI.—ST. OLAVE'S.

"This charming novel is the work of one who possesses a great talent for writing, as well as experience and knowledge of the world. 'St. Olave's' is the work of an artist. The whole book is worth reading."—Athenæum.

XXXII.—SAM SLICK'S AMERICAN HUMOUR.

"Dip where you will into the lottery of fun, you are sure to draw out a prize."—Post.

XXXIII.—CHRISTIAN'S MISTAKE.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN."

"A more charming story, to our taste, has rarely been written. The writer has hit off a circle of varied characters all true to nature, and has entangled them in a story which keeps us in suspense till its knot is happily and gracefully resolved. Even if tried by the standard of the Archbishop of York, we should expect that even he would pronounce 'Christian's Mistake' a novel without a fault."—Times.

XXXIV.—ALEC FORBES OF HOWGLEN.

BY GEORGE MAC DONALD, LL.D.

"No account of this story would give any idea of the profound interest that pervades the work from the first page to the last."—Athenæum.

XXXV.—AGNES. By MRS. OLIPHANT.

"'Agnes' is a novel superior to any of Mrs. Oliphant's former works."—Athenæum.

"A story whose pathetic beauty will appeal irresistibly to all readers."—Post.

XXXVI.—A NOBLE LIFE.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN."

"This is one of those pleasant tales in which the author of 'John Halifax' speaks out of a generous heart the purest truths of life."—Examiner. "Few men, and no women, will read 'A Noble Life' without finding themselves the better."—Spectator.

XXXVII.—NEW AMERICA. By HEPWORTH DIXON.

"A very interesting book. Mr. Dixon has written thoughtfully and well."—Times.

"Mr. Dixon's book is the work of a keen observer. Those who would pursue all the varied phenomena of which we have attempted an outline will have reason to be grateful to the intelligent and lively guide who has given them such a sample of the inquiry. During his residence at Salt Lake City, Mr. Dixon was able to gather much valuable and interesting information respecting Mormon life and society; and the account of that singular body, the Shakers, from his observations during a visit to their chief settlement at Mount Lebanon, is one of the best parts of Mr. Dixon's work."—Quarterly Review.

"There are few books of the season likely to excite so much general curiosity as Mr. Dixon's very entertaining and instructive work on New America. The book is really interesting from the first page to the last, and it contains a large amount of valuable and curious information."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"We recommend every one who feels any interest in human nature to read Mr. Dixon's very interesting book."—Saturday Review.

XXXVIII.—ROBERT FALCONER.

BY GEORGE MAC DONALD, LL.D.

"'Robert Falconer' is a work brimful of life and humour and of the deepest human interest. It is a book to be returned to again and again for the deep and searching knowledge it evinces of human thoughts and feelings."—Athenæum.

"This story abounds in exquisite specimens of the word-painting in which Mr. Macdonald excels, charming transcripts of nature, full of light, air, and colour. It is rich also in admirable poetry of a very high order. There is no lack of humour in it. And, besides these, its artistic merits, the story has this great charm, that it can scarcely fail to exercise an ennobling and purifying influence on the reader."—Saturday Review.

"This book is one of intense beauty and truthfulness. It reads like an absolutely faithful history of a life. If our criticism induces our readers to open Mr. Macdonald's book they will assuredly be amply repaid in the perusal of it."—Pall Mall Gazette.

THE TOILET.

A due attention to the Gifts and Graces of the Person, and a becoming preservation of the advantages of nature, are of more value and importance with reference to our health and well-being, than many parties are inclined to suppose. Several of the most attractive portions of the human frame are delicate and fragile, in proportion as they are graceful and pleasing; and the due conservation of them is intimately associated with our health and comfort.

THE HAIR,

for example, from the delicacy of its growth and texture, and its evident sympathy with the emotions of the mind;

THE SKIN,

with its intimate relation to the most vital of our organs, as those of respiration, circulation, and digestion, together with the delicacy and susceptibility of its own texture; and also, from their peculiar structure, formed, as they are, of bone or dentine, and cased with a fibrous investment of enamel; these admirable and highly essential portions of our frames are all to be regarded, not merely as objects of external beauty and display, but as having an intimate relation to our health, and the due discharge of the vital functions. The care of them ought never to be entrusted to ignorant or unskilful hands; and it is highly satisfactory to point out as protectors of these vital portions of our frame the preparations which have emanated from the laboratories of the Messrs. Rowlands, their unrivalled Macassar for the Hair, their Kalydor for improving and beautifying the Complexion, and their Odonto for the Teeth and Gums.

Sold by all Chemists and Perfumers.

PRIZE MEDAL

AWARDED

FOR GENERAL EXCELLENCE.

MESSRS. ARTHUR HENDERSON & Co.'s,

PINE APPLE PLACE,

MAIDA VALE, LONDON.

VEGETABLE SEED CATALOGUE

PUBLISHED THE 1st JANUARY, 1870.

IN IT WILL BE FOUND MANY VALUABLE VEGETABLES.

Henderson's Compact-top Pine-Apple Beet.—This superior variety, introduced by us some years since, is now generally cultivated in most gardens. Its peculiar short top, symmetrical shape, and fine dark crimson colour, uniform through the solid roots, are points of excellence rivalled only by its rich and sugary flavour and long-keeping properties. This celebrated Beet gained the First Prize against all other sorts at the Great International Exhibition of Fruits and Vegetables.

Also, Snow's True Winter White Broccoli.

The Rosette Round-leaved Colewort.

The now celebrated Juley and Crisp Moor Park Lettuce.

The Tom Thumb Little Cabbage Lettuce takes only half the time of other varieties in being fit for table.

Also, The Lettuce that "can't run to Seed."—An extraordinary sort, of fine robust growth: invaluable for hot summers; the finest Cos Lettuce, perhaps, in cultivation.

Henderson's Dwarf Waterloo Beet.—Top leaves, rich metallic crimson; growth true, even, and regular. This beautiful foliaged variety may with advantage be cultivated in the flower garden as a border, ribbon, or edging plant; its root is a trifle larger than the Pine-Apple. Compact top; flavour excellent, full of sweet saccharine juice; colour crimson; texture tender and uniform throughout.

Leslie's or Macfarlane's Late White Broccoli.—A most excellent sort; growth very distinct, but a shy seeder.

The French Breakfast Radish.—Much prized for its earliness and elegant appearance on the table; excellent flavour.

The Abergavenny Pea.—The finest flavoured and latest Pea extant.

The White Conqueror Celery.—Sweet, large, and a good grower.

Peas for cultivation without sticks.—Three excellent varieties. (See Vegetable Catalogue).

Reed's Solid Red Celery.—Still considered by many the finest red variety in cultivation.

The True Telegraph Cucumber.—Rollison's. This capital variety belongs to the white spined class; it is a free and wonderful bearer; thin skinned, and produces fruit 25 to 30 inches in length; of excellent flavour and handsome shape. Both as a winter and summer Cucumber it stands unrivalled.

We must here call attention to the new "Melons." These have been tested, and pronounced in flavour perfect; very rich and melting. Also some excellent Cucumbers. Full descriptions of these will be found in Seed Catalogue.

Sidell's Solid Mammoth Tomato.—A red variety of the largest size, distinguished by the productiveness of the plants, great specific gravity, smoothness and excellent flavour of the fruit; seeds few; skin not liable to crack, and thick enough to resist any tendency to rot in wet weather. A remarkable feature of the bearing plants is the great uniformity in the character of the fruit, and of the usual form.

Counover's Colossal Asparagus.—This remarkable variety was raised on Long Island, and very much improved from seeds imported six years ago from Europe. Has been thoroughly tested alongside of the best selected stock of both foreign and home-grown seed. On the same soil, and with the same cultivation and manure, it has made fully four times the growth of the best Oyster Bay Asparagus of the same age. It is such a vigorous grower that at two years old from the seed it will invariably send up from fifteen to forty sprouts, from one-half to one and a half inches in diameter; consequently Asparagus may be out for market or family use at least a year in advance of the ordinary sort. The colour is deep green, and the crown very close.

The Flower Seed Catalogue is bound up with the Vegetables, containing all Flower Seeds worthy of merit. Also, the new varieties of German Flower Seeds, and the finest strains of Florists' Flower Seeds.

P.S.—Carriage of all Seeds paid upon all Orders amounting to ONE POUND and upwards to any Railway Station in England or Wales, and all Orders for TWO POUNDS and upwards to any Railway Station in Scotland or any Steam Port in Scotland.

MILBURN'S IMPROVED PATENT

Reversible Lawn Mowing, Rolling, and Collecting Machines.

All Hand Machines have loose handles hanging on the roller centre, which is the first moving power, and enables any height of man to use them without stooping, and allows the knife to cut every particle of grass whatever undulations there may be in the turf.

WILLIAM MILBURN, ENGINEER,

21, SPEAR STREET,

DALE STREET,

MANCHESTER.

This engraving shows the Machine with the handles reversed for drawing and cutting underneath hurdles, overhanging branches of trees, near flower beds, or if crammed in a corner; in fact, no other make of Machine can be used where MILBURN'S can.

After most severe trials on both even and uneven grounds, these are now universally acknowledged to be the only Perfect Machines made, and are in use at the seats of a great number of the Nobility and Gentry, both at home and abroad. Upwards of 6600 have been sold since 1865. Send for enlarged Price List with Testimonials.

The steady increasing demand for these Machines has far exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the maker, and he has great pleasure in informing his numerous friends and customers that, notwithstanding the extreme simplicity of his 1868 Machines, he has entirely remodelled his Horse, Pony, and Hand Machines, each of which is made of the very best material, by experienced workmen, and under his own personal superintendence. All he asks is, if not good return them.

MILBURN'S IMPROVED PATENT

Reversible Lawn Mowing, Rolling, & Collecting Machines.

This engraving shows Milburn's Single Handled Machine for slope cutting, it is shown at the top of an embankment, it will be seen, that as the Machine nears the bottom of the embankment, the handle regains its ordinary position without lifting the cutter from the turf.

N.B.—The Two Handled ones act just the same.

EASTON'S

IMPROVED

RAM.

TO NOBLEMEN and GENTLEMEN who require a Plentiful and Constant Supply of Pure Water at their Country Mansions, Messrs. EASTONS, AMOS, and ANDERSON beg to offer their Improved PATENT HYDRAULIC RAM, which is perfectly self-acting, and without manual labour is capable of lifting water to thirty times the height of the waterfall by which it is worked.

These machines can be applied wherever a fall of water of a few feet can be obtained, and their cheapness and durability, with the fact that upwards of 1500 of them, erected in England and other countries by Messrs. EASTONS, AMOS, and ANDERSON, have now been at work many years, afford ample proof of their great value and efficiency.

Estimates of the expense of the machine, Pipes for the conveyance of Water, Tanks, and Reservoirs, will be furnished by Messrs. EASTONS, AMOS, and ANDERSON, on the following information being given them.

- 1st. The number of feet fall they can obtain at the spring or brook to work the Ram.
- 2ndly. The perpendicular height from the lower part of the fall to where the water is required to be delivered.
- 3rdly. The distance, horizontally, from the spring or brook to the house or premises where the water is required.
- 4thly. If the spring or brook should be small, it is very desirable to ascertain how many gallons it flows per minute.

LANCASTER.

HALF-WAY BETWEEN LONDON AND SCOTLAND.

The following Special Arrangements have been made by the London and North Western and Midland Railways, for the conveyance of Tourists to and from the Lakes, &c., viz. :—
PARTIES holding TOURISTS' TICKETS to and from the LAKE DISTRICT, including Windermere, Coniston, Troutbeck, (for Ullswater), Keswick, &c., can break the journey at Lancaster, for one night, both going and returning.
Scotch Tourists' Tickets.—Parties holding these Tickets may also break their journey at Lancaster, both going and returning.

From "The Lazy Tour of Two Idle Apprentices," by Charles Dickens.

"There is a good old inn at Lancaster, established in a good old house (SLY'S KING'S ARMS AND ROYAL), 'an inn where they give you bride-cake every day after dinner,' said Thomas Idle; 'Let us eat bride cake without the trouble of being married, or of knowing anybody in that ridiculous dilemma,' Mr. Goodchild, with a lover's sigh, assented. They departed from the Station in a violent hurry (for which, it is unnecessary to observe, there was not the least occasion), and were delivered at the fine old house at Lancaster on the same night.

"The house was a genuine old house of a very quaint description, teeming with old carvings, and beams, and panels, and having an excellent old staircase, cut off from it by a curious fencework of old oak, or of the old Houduras mahogany wood. It was, and is, and will be, for many a long year to come, a remarkably picturesque house.

"When Mr. Goodchild and Mr. Idle had first alighted at the door, and stepped into the sombre, handsome old hall, they had been received by half-a-dozen noiseless old men in black, all dressed exactly alike, who glided up the stairs with the obliging landlord and waiter—but without appearing to get into their way, or to mind whether they did or no—and who had filed off to the right and left on the old staircase, as the guests entered their sitting room.

"Mr. Goodchild concedes Lancaster to be a pleasant place, a place with a fine ancient fragment of a castle, a place of lovely walks, a place possessing staid old houses, richly fitted with old Houduras mahogany."

(COLOURLESS AND TRANSPARENT.)

For Glass, Earthenware, Wood, Ivory, Cardboard, and all kinds of Fancy Articles; for Leather, Papier Mache, Marble, Fossils, and every description of MUSEUM WORK.

After years of diligent investigation, Mr. FOULKES has succeeded in producing a Cement which fulfils all the conditions and requirements it is practicable to embrace in such a Preparation, viz.—

Perfect Transparency ; Total absence of Colour ; Fluidity and Readiness for immediate use, and such extreme tenacity as resists the greatest breaking power that can, under any ordinary or probable circumstances, be brought to bear upon it ; while in its unyielding qualities to both heat and fluids it will be found to surpass every other yet introduced.

In using it all trouble of heating is saved. It sets clear as glass, and in one quarter the time required by other preparations sold for Cementing Purposes, and its application is so very simple that it may be used even by a child. The moment any article has been broken, it can on the instant be repaired, before the edges have contracted dust, and in consequence will admit of, in most cases, an imperceptible joining. From the small quantity required, this Cement will be found the most economical.

In Bottles at 1s., and with hollow glass caps (requiring no cork) and brush, 1s. 6d. ; per post, 16 and 24 stamps respectively.—Sold by all Chemists, or direct from the Inventor, W. J. FOULKES, Operative Chemist, Birkenhead.

PURITY—DURABILITY—FRAGRANCE.

PEARS'S TRANSPARENT SOAP.

RECOMMENDED BY

Mr. STARTIN, Mr. ERASMUS WILSON, F.R.S., &c.

This TOILET SOAP has been established for 60 years as the best, and has the recommendation of the most eminent authorities on the skin. It is in every respect Pure and Free from excess of Alkali, as well as from all Colouring Materials. Its Perfume is agreeable and lasting, and the Soap itself remarkably durable. Owing to its non-irritant character it is invaluable to those whose skin is readily affected by the weather, as redness, roughness, and chapping are avoided, and a clear healthy tone, transparent bloom, and soft velvety feel imparted to the skin and complexion.

For SHAVING it has equal merits, producing abundance of lather of pleasant Perfume, which softens the beard, and instead of causing redness or irritation of the skin leaves it smooth, clear, cool, and comfortable.

IN TABLETS AND BALLS FOR WASHING, OR IN STICKS FOR SHAVING, AND CAKES,

From ONE SHILLING each.

Mr. ERASMUS WILSON, F.R.S., says:—

"Pears—a name engraved on the memory of the oldest inhabitant, and PEAR'S TRANSPARENT SOAP, an article of the nicest and most careful manufacture, and one of the most refreshing and agreeable of balms to the skin."—Journal of Cutaneous Medicine.

"The best of all the Soaps made, considered from a medical point of view, is the TRANSPARENT SOAP of Messrs. PEAR'S. It is the best for babies, unquestionably, and may be used freely to them."—Cassell's Household Guide.

LAMPLOUGH'S

EFFERVESCING

PYRETIC SALINE.

It is important to all, more especially those who have charge of others—to Travellers, English Ministers, British Consuls, and Europeans seeking to reside in safety in Tropical and Foreign Climates.

Her Majesty's Representative, the Governor of Sierra Leone, states—"It is of GREAT VALUE, and I shall rejoice to hear it is in the hands of all Europeans visiting the Tropics."

Numbers who have previously suffered from Climates unsuited to the constitution or the injurious use of mercury, inducing disease in its protean form, who had visited our native Bethesda waters and pools in vain, have, by the daily taking the PYRETIC SALINE, recovered their wonted health and vigour.

Invigorating and vitalising the blood, it alleviates thirst in a most agreeable manner, and furnishes the system with those saline principles that are essential to health.

SKIN DISEASES, SICKNESS, HEADACHE, and NAUSEA are in most cases relieved and cured by taking a teaspoonful in a tumbler of cold water.

SEA VOYAGES.—It is very valuable. It instantly allays the sickness.

For BILIOUS CONSTITUTIONS, giving rise to vitiated Secretions, Indigestion, and Eruptions on the Skin, a teaspoonful should be taken daily.

CONCENTRATED LIME JUICE SYRUP,

As imported for the hospitals from the Fresh Fruit, a perfect Luxury: forms a most delicious and invigorating draught for the delicate and invalid, of special service in Scrofula, Fevers, Gout, and Rheumatism, and a low or altered condition of the system. Most Chemists sell the above with the Pyretic Saline.

May be obtained of the Proprietor, H. LAMPLOUGH, 113, HOLBORN, E.C., Second Door from Hatten Garden, London; HOLDSWORTH, Upper Priory, Birmingham; RAIMES & Co., Liverpool, Edinburgh, and York; Glasgow Apothecaries' Company; BURROW, Great Malvern; WAKEFIELD, Malvern Wells; and all respectable Chemists. In Bottles, 2s. 6d., 4s. 6d., 1ls., and 2ls.

"Have them in your houses to secure these advantages."

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

ADVICE TO INVALIDS.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary aching of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE (late Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of

CHLORODYNE,

And which is admitted by the Profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for COUGHS, CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests those too often fatal diseases known as DIPHTHERIA, FEVER, CROUP, AGUE.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in DIARRHŒA, and is the only specific in CHOLERA and DYSENTERY.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of EPILEPSY, HYSTERIA, PALPITATION, and SPASMS.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in NEURALGIA, RHEUMATISM, GOUT, CANCER, TOOTHACHE, MENINGITIS, &c.

The Right Hon. EARL RUSSELL has graciously favoured J. T. DAVENPORT with the following:—

"Extract of a despatch from Mr. WEBB, H.B.M.'s Consul at Manilla, dated September 17, 1864:—

"The remedy most efficacious in its effects (in Epidemic Cholera) has been found to be Chlorodyne, and with a small quantity given to me by Dr. Burke I have saved several lives."

From LORD FRANCIS CONYNNGHAM, Mount Charles, Donegal.

"December 11, 1865.

"Lord Francis Conyngham, who this time last year bought more of Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne from Mr. Davenport, and has found it a most wonderful Medicine, will be glad to have half-a-dozen bottles sent to the above address."

CAUTION.—BEWARE OF PIRACY AND IMITATIONS.

CAUTION. { VICE-CHANCELLOR SIR W. PAGE WOOD stated that Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of CHLORODYNE; that the story of the Defendant was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to."—See Times, July 13, 1864.

"Eminent Hospital Physicians of London stated that Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE was the discoverer of Chlorodyne, that they prescribe it largely; and mean no other than Dr. BROWNE'S."—See Times, July 13, 1864.

Sold in Bottles at 1s. 3d., 2s. 6d., 4s. 6d., and 1ls. each. The extraordinary medical Reports on the efficacy of Chlorodyne render it of vital importance that the public should obtain the genuine, which is now sold under the protection of Government authorizing a stamp bearing the words "Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE," without which none is genuine.

It is now acknowledged by the best Authorities and confirmed by the most eminent Physicians that THE ONLY PURE EXTRACT OF COCOA which can be Guaranteed Genuine, Soluble, Anti-dyspeptic, and delicious in taste, is

LOEWENTHAL'S

(REGISTERED)

CHOCOLATINE

The Medical Press and Circular, in "Analytical Report of all Cocoa supplied in the British Market," pronounces it Genuine, and among 32 samples analysed, foremost in point of Purity. These analyses were guaranteed to be perfectly impartial by two of the best chemists in London and Dublin.

The British Medical Journal says: "It is a pure preparation of Cocoa, which furnishes a most agreeable, digestible, and nutritious beverage. It is thoroughly soluble, and very delicate in flavour, free from the excess of butter, and suitable for the most fastidious of palates."

The Homoeopathic Review, Nov., 1869, says: "It is a pure form of Cocoa, and is entirely free from any mixture." It makes a very pleasant and nutritious substitute for tea and coffee, and is a cocoa which can be thoroughly recommended.
